Welcome to UQ

Starting postgraduate study is an exciting time. You'll meet people who will become lifelong friends, exchange ideas with other bright minds, and develop knowledge that will help you excel, no matter where life takes you.

At UQ, we are here to support, guide and inspire you as you join us on this next step towards your future success.

When you join us, you'll be surrounded by like-minded students, who come from Australia and around the world to study here. The curiosity, creativity and resilience of our students are part of what makes employers seek out UQ graduates – a global network you will one day join, who reinforce the value of a UQ degree through their achievements and successes.

As a global top 50 university, UQ has championed creative thinking for more than 100 years to solve problems facing humanity. We don't just teach the latest research – our research pioneers are industry leaders who discover the latest breakthroughs, and make a positive difference in people's lives around the world.

You'll study at one of our beautiful campuses in South East Queensland – whether in seminars, small tutorials, laboratories, or by partnering with our passionate educators to change how courses are taught.

University isn't just about study though – you'll also have fun here. UQ is renowned for our vibrant campus culture, our clubs and societies, and our sporting communities, where you'll truly enjoy your recreation time while making friends for life.

No matter what your reason for being here, you are sure to enjoy UQ's long-standing traditions, while creating some new ones of your own.

Pioneering change

In 2018, UQ received $396.4 million in research income, including over $70 million in competitive grants from the Australian Research Council.

 100%

of our research fields are above world standard. (Excellence in Research for Australia, 2018)

Heron Island Research Station, located on the Great Barrier Reef, is internationally renowned for coral reef research and student training in marine sciences.

UQ researchers are named among the world's most influential. 28 UQ researchers have been named in the prestigious 2019 Highly Cited Researchers List.

Our Institute for Social Science Research analyses society's 'big' issues including social disadvantage, employment, education, sustainability, social wellbeing, health and housing.

 94%

of international students at UQ are satisfied with UQ's expert lecturers, learning environments and technology. (International Student Barometer, 2018)

At UQ, we create knowledge.

We are one of Australia's leading research-intensive universities. The calibre of our research and the impact of our innovations is addressing many of the cultural, economic and social challenges facing the world today.

Discover our latest innovations and the technology behind them. Be inspired by our world-leading researchers, and understand what it takes to pioneer change.

Innovations for the world

We are a global research leader in biosciences, nanotechnology, engineering, sustainable development and social science. Our innovations are impacting millions of people around the world.

- Gardasil® cervical cancer vaccine: 205 million doses administered in 130 countries, saving an estimated 120,000 lives annually.
- Conservation: software developed by UQ has enhanced conservation planning globally in areas like the Great Barrier Reef and the Galapagos Islands.
- Triple P Positive Parenting Program: helps millions of children and families in 28 countries and 22 languages.
- MRI machines: UQ technology is used in the majority of the world's MRI machines, facilitating production of faster and more accurate images, and therefore improving diagnostic quality.
- GroundProbe: mine-safety technology that is used by some of the world's largest mining companies.
- Food security: UQ works with the Queensland Government to enhance the drought tolerance of sorghum, an important cereal in sub-Saharan Africa.
- Nanopatch: a revolutionary needle-free method of delivering vaccines being developed in the UQ spin-out company, Vaxxas.
- Latch-On: gives the gift of literacy to people with intellectual disability in Australia and across the globe.
- Water use: our technology has changed practices in global water and sewerage utilities, saving hundreds of millions of dollars.

Pioneering your future

We bring the latest ideas and research into the classroom to place you at the frontier of knowledge. You will learn from world-renowned researchers. Our international reputation means we attract some of the best minds in the world to the University – including presidents, prime ministers, international authors and ground-breaking researchers – who will inspire you to break through barriers.

World-class facilities

Our eight globally recognised research institutes are home to more than 1500 specialists continuing UQ's tradition of research leadership with the latest in equipment and instrumentation, laboratories, scientific services and training, and support. Additionally, we have research centres located throughout Queensland.

Transforming your learning

Our teachers are the most highly awarded in the country.

Recognised for transforming the way students learn at university, they will inspire and guide you with the latest knowledge and ideas.

You will put theory into practice in workplace settings, expanding your understanding and contextualising your studies.

Best place to learn in Australia

We are committed to your learning and enabling you to become a creative, adaptive and innovative problem-solver in today's workplace. In the most recent Australia-wide survey designed to assess how satisfied international students were with their university, we received above 88 per cent satisfaction in the following areas:

- Overall student satisfaction
- Good teachers
- Quality lectures
- Performance feedback
- Managing research
- Topic selection
- Program content
- Learning support
- Virtual learning
- Laboratories
- Learning spaces.

Transforming your knowledge

Our teachers write the books that are used for teaching. They produce research papers every year, they contribute to international conversations in their fields and their work appears in the media and influences government policy. This knowledge is brought into the classroom so you can address the latest issues, ideas and challenges with their support.

Teaching for the future

Our courses are designed in consultation with learning design teams to maximise your employability when you graduate. Our lecturers incorporate student feedback into their decision-making and planning processes to ensure course material is exciting, fresh and transformative. We offer Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs), MicroMasters®, and UQ's first fully online master's program on edX, one of the most reputable online course platforms in the world, so you can expand your horizon, gain new skills and follow your curiosity.

Practical learning

You will apply knowledge in practical settings. From our marine research station at Heron Island and our veterinary science centre at Gatton to the Business School in Brisbane's CBD and our medical centres located in hospitals throughout Queensland, we immerse you in environments where learning and making a difference meet.

Independent research

As a master's by coursework student, you will undertake compulsory independent research and project work or practice-related learning as part of your program. Depending on what you study, this may take the form of practice-based research, literature reviews, presentations, essays, case studies, and clinical and work-based research. Independent research develops your ability to work autonomously and gives you solid grounding for pursuing a higher degree by research.

UQ's Master of Data Science program aims to address the current global shortfall in data science experts

More national teaching awards than any other Australian university.

Four UQ academics received an Australian Award for University Teacher of the Year and an award for Teaching Excellence in 2020.

Other national awards were attributed to UQ programs in 2019, such as the UQ Physiotherapy Standardised Patients Program (Australian Financial Review Higher Education Award) and the UQ Faculty of Business, Economics and Law Student Employability Team program (Reimagine Education Award).

The 'Leading High Performing Teams / Business Leadership MicroMasters program' led by the UQ Business School was a finalist for the 2019 edX Prize for Exceptional Contributions in Online Teaching and Learning.

Industry relevant

As a locally and globally connected university, UQ provides many opportunities for students to apply knowledge gained in the classroom to the real world.

You will have access to work-integrated learning, entrepreneurial courses, local and global internships and volunteer positions to boost your confidence, capabilities and résumé.

A wide range of free entrepreneurship programs are available to complement your studies, and to help you build a network, take on new challenges and bring your ideas to life.

Partner to companies

We build partnerships with leading international companies. Our teachers work on commercial challenges and bring their experiences into the classroom. As UQ's partnerships with companies develop, so do internship and research opportunities for students and researchers.

- Neusoft: UQ has an agreement with the largest IT solutions and services provider in China to promote research collaboration and provide internships for students.
- Siemens: provided more than $500 million of software to UQ to enable students to access advanced technology, building their skills in digital and data-driven industries.
- Leo Pharma Denmark: UQ has an ongoing scientific collaboration with the pharmaceutical company to better understand and treat skin cancer.
- Australian Government: UQ helped the government to create a national compliance framework for export controls.
- Johnson & Johnson (J&J): UQ researchers are collaborating with J&J immunology scientists to discover and develop a new treatment for rheumatoid arthritis.

- Fangyuan Company (China) and CODELCO (Chile): the two huge copper producers are funding a five-year research professorship at UQ around copper smelting.
- EY: UQ researchers are collaborating with EY on the importance of innovation as a driver of organisational productivity in the oil and gas sector in Australia.
- Great Barrier Reef Marine Park Authority: UQ provides ongoing pioneering research to protect the Great Barrier Reef's precious marine species such as coral reef communities and turtles.

Workplace learning

Internships, placements and networking will be part of your study experience at UQ through work-integrated learning. Grow your entrepreneurial mindset and employment network before you even graduate.

- Business, Economics and Law: our staff work with a diverse portfolio of international organisations such as Accor, Bank of America, Colliers International, Deloitte, EY, Flight Centre, Goldman Sachs, Google, HSBC and Virgin.

- Engineering, Architecture and IT: the Meet a Mentor program sees third- and fourth-year engineering and IT undergraduates working one-on-one with managers from 80 companies.
- Health and Behavioural Sciences: ten clinics providing healthcare, rehabilitation and nutrition services to the general public expose our students to the latest in equipment, tools and care.
- Humanities and Social Sciences: internships, field trips and placements in Brisbane, interstate and overseas are part of course credit for humanities and social science students.
- Medicine: students undertake placements in hospitals and clinics around the world where they are trained and mentored by doctors and healthcare specialists.
- Science: our researchers work with industry partners including the peak industry councils for cotton, fisheries, horticulture and forestry, as well as Rio Tinto and BHP.
- Extra-curricular opportunities: with UQ's range of entrepreneurship programs students can access local and global internships and work experience.

Ventures offers fully supported, hands-on internships with startups in San Francisco, Singapore, Tel Aviv, Shanghai and other entrepreneurial hotspots.

The ilab Accelerator also supports students, researchers and alumni through the early stage of business development by providing seed funding and mentoring so they can scale their business or social enterprise.

UniQuest, UQ's commercialisation company, has helped start up more than 100 companies and raise US$22 billion in gross product sales.

Since 2003 we have been in partnership with Boeing, the world's largest aerospace company. Boeing Research & Technology–Australia (BR&T-A) is located at our St Lucia campus. Boeing collaborates with UQ researchers and students on the latest ideas in aerospace, so you can learn from their discoveries and setbacks in the classroom or directly from Boeing staff.

VENTURES

Venture ahead with UQ's entrepreneurial community

ventures.uq.edu.au

Develop the knowledge, networks and skills to chart your own path.

Through UQ Ventures, students are offered a range of entrepreneurship programs, events and competitions throughout the year, including hackathons, industry events, alumni get-togethers, workshops and pitch nights. Free for UQ students across all faculties and study levels.

Design your own path

You can mix and match programs depending on your experience. There's support at every stage of your Ventures journey – from flexing your creative muscles to launching a startup.

Introductory

Gain the skills and knowledge needed to think and act like an entrepreneur.

Our introductory programs such as Idea Hub Unlimited and LeadHers, will help you to get inspired, learn core entrepreneurial skills, immerse yourself in UQ's community of entrepreneurs and give you the confidence to take your first steps in your Ventures journey.

Skills applied

Put your knowledge into practice by solving real industry problems.

Challenge your ideas and make them reality by applying your new-found entrepreneurship skills with Startup Academy or Social Enterprise programs. Test and validate the fit between your ideas and market needs while developing a sustainable business model for your product or service.

Advanced

Our programs can take you overseas, or help you launch your own startup.

Take your entrepreneurship journey overseas with our Startup Adventures. Our four-week intensive global internships at some of the world's most vibrant startup hot spots including San Francisco, Shanghai, Shenzhen, Tel Aviv and Singapore.

Accelerate your startup and get up to $20,000 to take your business or social enterprise to the next level with the ilab Accelerator program.

A truly global network

As an international student, you know the importance of thinking and acting globally. At UQ, so do we.

Our worldwide partner and alumni networks give you the international opportunities and connections to enhance your learning, life skills and employment prospects from the start of your degree to long after you graduate.

While you are at UQ

Our partnerships = your opportunity

As a UQ student, Brisbane or Gatton is just the first stop on your overseas adventure. Grow your global network through UQ's student exchange program by studying up to two semesters of your degree at one of our 180 partner institutions in 38 countries.

You will gain program credit while expanding your world perspective, enhancing your employability, developing your network, and maybe even learning a new language. While on exchange, tuition fees at the host university are waived as you remain enrolled at and pay fees to UQ.

Mr Cameron Bellamy

Master of International Economics and Finance

After growing up in Cape Town, South Africa, Cameron Bellamy vowed to make a difference after witnessing the inequalities around him. Upon graduating from Rhodes University, Bellamy completed a Master of International Economics and Finance at UQ.

An accomplished athlete, Bellamy founded the Ubunye Challenge in 2011, and it is through endurance challenges that Bellamy and his team of athletes raise money to support communities in some of the poorest areas of South Africa and Zimbabwe.

Cameron Bellamy is the recipient of the 2018 Distinguished Young Alumni Award.

Professor Opha Pauline Dube

Doctor of Philosophy (Geographical Sciences and Planning)

A recognised leader in global environmental change, Professor Opha Pauline Dube has been active in international climate change research for more than 25 years, with a focus on Africa. She is an environmental change scientist and an Associate Professor in the Department of Environmental Science at the University of Botswana.

Dube has received many accolades for her research, including a Nobel Peace Prize Certificate awarded in 2007 as part of the IPCC authorship for significant contribution to the scientific understanding of climate change and its implications for society.

Professor Opha Pauline Dube was the 2018 International Alumna of the Year.

Ms Shandana Aurangzeb Durrani

Master of Development Practice

Shortly after completing her degree, Shandana joined UNICEF and returned to her home country of Pakistan. She provided support during a series of large-scale emergencies, including the displacement crisis in 2009, and the 2010 floods, which affected more than 20 million people. Since then, Shandana's work with UNICEF has included emergency response assignments in Africa and as the Officer in Charge of Specialist Planning, Monitoring, Evaluation and Reporting. She is passionate about supporting marginalised and vulnerable children facing life-threatening and challenging circumstances all over the world.

Shandana is the recipient of both the Vice-Chancellor's Alumni Equity and Diversity Award 2010 and International Alumna of the Year 2017 award from The University of Queensland.

Game-changing graduates

Our research, teaching and connections prepare you to forge an exciting career. Outside the classroom you can access our career resources and networking events, and participate in our Employability Award to expand your capabilities and mindset. When you graduate, you will be ready for any challenge.

Our free online course EMPLOY101x will help you unlock your career potential and market yourself to employers. edx.org/course/unlocking-your-employability

UQ is ranked 57th in the world for graduate employability (QS Graduate Employability Rankings, 2020).

Over the last three years, UQ's student employability and careers services have been recognised with multiple national and international awards.

The UQ International Student Ambassador program gives high-achieving international students the opportunity to represent the University in a range of paid roles.

Careers Service

Our award-winning Careers Service can help you plan your career, develop your capabilities and gain that competitive edge. We offer workshops in how to find work, network, write a résumé, excel in interviews, apply for a job, and leadership and presentation techniques.

Employer events and Volunteer Expo

With multiple Employers on Campus events throughout the year, you can speak with future employers from a diverse range of industries and backgrounds to find the right job for you. Most employers offer roles in graduate recruitment programs and some offer vacation work, internships, work experience, scholarships and co-op programs. Our yearly Volunteer Expo is an opportunity to find out how you can help the community and your career prospects.

Employability Award

The Employability Award gives postgraduate coursework students the chance to build capabilities that future employers value, such as leadership, teamwork, communication, problem solving and cultural awareness. To qualify for the Award, you need to complete a minimum of 100 hours of work experience, 100 hours of volunteering, and participate in five supplementary activities. It's free to join and is awarded upon graduation.

The perfect place to study

We offer one of the best campus experiences in the world in a location renowned for its relaxed and safe lifestyle, subtropical climate and vibrant and diverse culture.

BRISBANE

Brisbane, the home of UQ's St Lucia and Herston campuses, is the capital city of Queensland and its economic engine room. Young and progressive, the city is fast becoming a hub in the Asia-Pacific for business, investment, major events and education. It is also home to over 200 nationalities and 220 languages.

Entertainment

Brisbane city has a great live music scene that can be discovered in Fortitude Valley and West End. For comedy, live theatre and dance, head to the Brisbane Powerhouse and the Queensland Performing Arts Centre (QPAC). The Gallery of Modern Art (GOMA) is one of the best modern art galleries in the country, and keep an eye out for the Brisbane Writers Festival and the Brisbane Festival that attract international artists from across the globe.

Sport

Brisbane's amazing weather and sporting facilities make physical activity a must. Kayak along the Brisbane River, rock climb your way to the top of the Kangaroo Point Cliffs, ride along more than 20 kilometres of riverside cycle paths, join a sporting club, or barrack like a local when you attend a rugby union, rugby league, cricket, 'Aussie Rules' or football match at one of our famous sporting stadiums.

Food

With just under a third of Brisbane's population born overseas, you can find cuisine from almost every culture. From affordable lunchtime and 'Cheap Tuesday' offers, to reasonably priced cafes, pubs, restaurants and farmers' markets, there is plenty to choose from and plenty of new culinary experiences to be had. And you can always picnic or barbecue in one of our lovely parks by the river.

Getting around

One of the best views of Brisbane is from a CityCat – a ferry service that runs along the river from UQ's St Lucia campus to the city and the riverside suburb of Hamilton. Brisbane also has an extensive bus and train network that makes it easy to get around. A 'go card' will allow you to travel on all Brisbane public transport at discounted student prices.

Around Brisbane

When you want to head out of the city, there is plenty to discover. Head south for the famous golden sands of the Gold Coast and Byron Bay, north for the quiet beaches of the Sunshine Coast or the majestic Great Barrier Reef, west for ancient rainforests and charming outback towns or east for the spectacular Moreton Island, Stradbroke Island and Fraser Island. Sydney, Cairns and Melbourne are all short flights away. You will wish you had more holidays.

UQ Gatton

Our rural campus is located near the town of Gatton, 87 kilometres west of the Brisbane CBD. It offers a laid-back and friendly lifestyle with on-campus accommodation, a publicly accessible motel and a variety of sporting facilities.

Food and retail

You can buy food and drinks from the Coffee Pod, Dining Hall and Walkway Cafe, and you can purchase and sell books at our retail bookshop. There is an on-campus ATM and a post office, and keep an eye out for the regular events for students in the Central Walkway.

Teaching and research facilities

The campus houses production animals, horticultural fields, a plant nursery, post-harvest facilities, research laboratories and greenhouses, a wildlife facility, specialist veterinary and equine hospitals, and some of the best animal teaching facilities in the southern hemisphere.

Fitness

Whether you're looking to boost your fitness, meet new people, or relax and unwind, UQ Sport Gatton offers an ideal opportunity to do it all in one location. There's both gym and pool facilities – as well as tennis, basketball, netball and squash courts. There are weekly group fitness classes, sporting clubs and social sports to enjoy. uqsport.com.au

Library

UQ Gatton's recently refurbished library provides computers, comfortable furniture and break-out spaces, individual study spaces with acoustic lining, power and USB connectors, height-adjustable desks, meeting rooms, a postgraduate study area, and a 24-hour study space.

Free inter-campus bus service

UQ provides a free inter-campus bus service between UQ Gatton and UQ St Lucia for students and staff. future-students.uq.edu.au/university-life/campuses-research-sites

Travel time by free inter-campus bus between UQ St Lucia and UQ Gatton: 90 minutes (one way)

UQ Herston

Just three kilometres from the Brisbane city centre, UQ Herston is the specialist campus for health and medical teaching and research.

UQ shares premises with the Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital and the QIMR Berghofer Medical Research Institute, which creates a connected and engaged community.

The campus is home to:

- Faculty of Medicine
- School of Public Health
- School of Dentistry
- Herston Imaging Research Facility
- Oral Health Centre
- RECOVER Injury Research Centre
- UQ Centre for Clinical Research.

Surgical, Treatment and Rehabilitation Service (STARS)

Currently under construction, STARS will be one of the largest tertiary specialist rehabilitation centres in the southern hemisphere, accommodating about 100 nursing and allied health students.

Library

UQ Herston's Health Sciences library provides computers, study rooms and meeting rooms, a 24-hour study space, height-adjustable desks, and access to the Queensland Health network.

Food and retail

You can grab a bite to eat or drink from Cafe Dose, the hospital cafes or Subway. There is a bank and ATMs on campus, as well as a gift shop, pharmacy, post office and newsagency, and bookshop.

Research institutes

UQ's Global Change Institute

UQ has a proud reputation for creating change in the world through research. In partnership with government, industry and donors, UQ has established eight globally recognised research institutes, as well as research centres at our three main campuses and other locations across Queensland.

Australian Institute for Bioengineering and Nanotechnology (AIBN)

AIBN seeks to deliver innovative solutions to society's problems through sustainable materials, healthy living and translational success. AIBN's research is underpinned by Five Pillars of Research that includes stem cell ageing and regenerative engineering, precision nanomedicine, advanced materials, agriculture nanotechnology and advanced biomanufacturing.

Global Change Institute (GCI)

GCI's mission is to promote transdisciplinary collaboration from across UQ, industry, government and the community to address grand challenges and build a strong Australia within a competitive global economy. Through innovation brokering, design-led facilitation, impact research networks and institute operations, the GCI seeks to stimulate research collaboration for complex transdisciplinary challenges across five key areas: 'Leading Healthy Lives', 'Building Better Bioeconomies', 'Achieving Resilient Environments and Livelihoods', 'Designing Technology for Tomorrow' and 'Transforming Societies'.

gci.uq.edu.au

Institute for Molecular Bioscience (IMB)

IMB is a multidisciplinary life sciences research institute where 500 scientists use world-leading infrastructure to drive discoveries from genome to drug design, disease discovery application and sustainable futures. IMB's research is framed through centres focused on superbugs, pain, heart disease, inflammation, solar biotechnology and the genomics-disease interplay.

imb.uq.edu.au

Institute for Social Science Research (ISSR)

As UQ's flagship institute for quantitative social sciences, ISSR is committed to improving economic and social wellbeing for individuals, families, communities and regions in Australia and internationally. With expertise in research methods and statistics, ISSR conducts policy and program evaluations for governmental and other agencies, and analyses society's 'big' issues, including social disadvantage, individual and community development, employment, education, sustainability, social wellbeing, health and housing.

issr.uq.edu.au

Mater Research Institute – UQ (MRI-UQ)

MRI-UQ aims to turn scientific discovery into the best possible treatment, care and outcomes for patients and the broader community. Key focus areas include cancer biology and care; mothers', babies and women's health; chronic disease biology and care; neurosciences and cognitive health; optimising acute care; and implementing evidence to improve health.

materresearch.org.au

Queensland Alliance for Agriculture and Food Innovation (QAAFI)

QAAFI is a world-leading research institute, and among only a handful of similar scientific organisations anywhere in the world. QAAFI delivers high-impact science to significantly improve the productivity, competitiveness and sustainability of tropical and subtropical food, fibre and agribusiness industries.

qaafi.uq.edu.au

Queensland Brain Institute (QBI)

QBI is dedicated to understanding how the brain works, how it can be repaired and how we can harness its full potential. QBI scientists are working to develop new treatments for disorders including dementia, stroke, concussion, intellectual and learning disabilities, Parkinson's disease, motor neuron disease, depression, anxiety and schizophrenia.

qbi.uq.edu.au

Sustainable Minerals Institute (SMI)

SMI is a world leading research institute committed to developing knowledge-based solutions to the sustainability challenges of the global resource industry and ensuring the supply of natural resources required for a low carbon future. SMI comprises six research centres and a Centre of Excellence in Chile, and its work integrates the expertise of production, environmental, social science and health and safety specialists.

Programs

At UQ, a qualification or degree is called a program.

We have more than 150 subject areas on offer as well as Higher Degrees by Research (HDR). You can choose a program that enhances your existing knowledge, or a program that sets you on a new career path.

We give credit for prior studies, and if you do not meet the entry requirements for the program of your choice, you may be able to gain entry by undertaking a graduate certificate to enrol in your dream program.

Using the Programs section

Choose your program

Use the 'UQ Programs Quick Reference' table on pages 26-27 to find your program. Alternatively, you can refer to the index on page 113.

Check your program's admission requirements

Entry requirements for postgraduate coursework programs can be found within each program's description (pages 32-91).

TIP All programs require that you have either 'Minimum' or 'Higher-than-minimum' English language skills. You can find definitions of 'Minimum' and 'Higher-than-minimum' English on pages 92-93.

TIP For most programs you will need a 'grade point average' (GPA) (or equivalent). At UQ, we use a 7-point grading scale, where 4 is a pass and 7 is the highest grade.
future-students.uq.edu.au/admissions/postgraduate-coursework

Apply for your UQ program

Use the step-by-step application process on page 94 as a guide for how to apply to UQ.

Check if you are eligible for a scholarship

There are scholarships available to postgraduate coursework students. See pages 108-109 for more detail and to check your eligibility.

Key to symbols used in the Programs section

Additional costs

Additional costs can include items such as equipment, clothing, field trips, placements, special registrations or other necessities and may be purchased from providers other than UQ.

Quota program

A quota program is one that has limited places available for students, and entry may be competitive.

External

If a program is external, it means it is conducted off-campus (usually online). International students who enrol in an external program are not eligible for an Australian student visa. External programs can be studied part-time.

Placement

A placement is work experience for course credit. Placements can be compulsory or optional.

You can find a description of each key term used in the programs section on the 'UQ terminology' page at the back of this guide (page 112).

Higher Degrees by Research

UQ also offers the following Higher Degrees by Research (HDRs): Master of Philosophy (MPhil), Doctor of Philosophy (PhD), Doctor of Biotechnology (DBiotech) and Doctor of Veterinary Clinical Science (DVetClinSci) to equip you with specialist knowledge, enhance your employability, upgrade your qualifications, help you get promoted, or pave the way for your career in research.

Detailed information on HDRs including admissions qualifications, fees and application instructions can be found on pages 96-99.

Program table explained

DURATION

The time it takes to complete a program when it is studied full-time.

Full-time: The standard study load is eight units per semester.

Part-time: Part-time study load is less than 75 per cent of the standard study load (i.e. less than six units per semester for most programs). International students can only study part-time if they do not require a student visa or where the program is external. All international students on an international student visa must complete the program within the stated program duration.

START SEMESTER

The academic year at UQ is divided into two main semesters. Semester 1 usually starts at the end of February and Semester 2 starts at the end of July.

The majority of programs begin at the start of the semester, and some only have one start semester per year; however, some programs may have an earlier or later start date or begin in Summer semester.

INDICATIVE FEE

Tuition fees vary according to program. We have provided an indicative semester fee for each program in this guide. This indicative amount is based on a standard full-time study load for one semester unless the program is part-time only.

RELEVANT/SAME/ APPROVED DISCIPLINES

For some programs you must have studied particular disciplines to obtain entry.

DURATION	START SEMESTER	FEE (1ST SEM)	CAMPUS	ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS
				ENGLISH	YOUR CURRENT QUALIFICATION	GPA	ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS	RELEVANT/SAME/ APPROVED DISCIPLINES	APPLICATION CLOSING DATES

One of three UQ teaching sites located at St Lucia, Herston and Gatton where the majority of lectures are held.

Some programs may be delivered at UQ's other teaching sites.

External programs are taught online.

ENGLISH

All programs require either 'Minimum' or 'Higher-than-minimum' English language proficiency.

'Minimum' English language proficiency is IELTS 6.5 with a 6 in each sub-band (or equivalent).

'Higher-than-minimum' English language proficiency varies and is higher than 'Minimum' English.

See pages 92-93 for a list of programs with 'Higher-than-minimum' English language proficiency requirements and to view alternate ways to meet 'Minimum' and 'Higher-than-minimum' English language proficiency requirements.

YOUR CURRENT QUALIFICATION

Almost all programs require you to have completed a specific degree.

Some also have additional requirements.

GPA

GPA stands for Grade Point Average; it is a measure of academic performance based on grades received and the number of units completed. At UQ, academic performance is graded on a seven-point scale:

7 - High Distinction
6 - Distinction
5 - Credit
4 - Pass.

Anything below a 4 is a fail.

APPLICATION CLOSING DATES

Some programs have early application closing dates. For all other program application closing dates, see page 95.

QR CODES

For a direct link to more details about a specific program, scan the QR code.

New generation smart phones do not require a QR reader - just hover your phone's camera over the code. On other phones, you will need to download a QR reader app.

Pathways to your program

We offer pathway programs if you don't satisfy the admission requirements for your preferred UQ program.

You can improve your English language skills at our on-campus language institute or, for some master's programs, you may be able to study a graduate certificate and progress to a master's program.

Pathway options to enter UQ

English language pathways

Improve your English language proficiency by studying an ICTE English language pathway course, which can lead to a UQ program (provided you have the academic qualifications for entry and achieve the required English results).

Institute of Continuing & TESOL Education (ICTE)

Each year, more than 4000 students from 50 countries and regions come to Brisbane to learn or improve their English at ICTE on UQ's St Lucia campus. In our classes, you will be taught by highly qualified teachers, while outside class time you can access our Learning Advisors, Learning Centre and online support materials. ICTE can also arrange for homestay accommodation with a local family.

CRICOS Provider Number 00091C

Articulate through a graduate certificate

If you do not have the academic requirements to enter a UQ master's program, you may choose instead to apply for a one-semester graduate certificate - if available - in the same program suite then study progressively to the higher-level programs of graduate diploma, coursework master's and master's (advanced).

English language pathways

Improve your English language proficiency at UQ's award-winning English language institute, the Institute of Continuing & TESOL Education (ICTE).

If you meet the academic requirements for entry to a UQ program but do not satisfy the English language entry requirements for that program, for most of our programs you can apply for a package offer that includes:

- an English course – English language classes to get you to the level you need for entry to your UQ program, and
- a conditional place in your preferred UQ program.

To receive a UQ package offer, you must provide evidence of your current English language ability (IELTS or other recognised test – see pages 92-93) with your UQ program application.

If you don't have an IELTS score or equivalent, or your overall IELTS score is below 5.0, join our General English classes. When you reach General English level 4, you can transfer to an English for Academic Purposes course.

Learning English for work, travel or other reasons

ICTE offers English language courses from elementary to advanced levels. If you simply want to improve your English for work, travel or other personal reasons consider our General English (GE) or English for International Business Communication (EIBC) courses.

icte.uq.edu.au/english-courses

Prepare for your IELTS test

The free IELTSx MOOC, designed and delivered by ICTE, will prepare you to take the IELTS Academic test with confidence. You will have immediate access to over 80 hours of interactive practice materials covering each of the four skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing.

icte.uq.edu.au/testing/prepare-ielts/ieltsx-online-course

There are two English language pathways to UQ programs:

Bridging English (BE)

Duration 10 to 30 weeks, depending on your English level and UQ program entry requirements (see table opposite).

Weekly tuition fee $515*

Campus UQ St Lucia

Minimum admission requirements

IELTS 5.0 overall and 5 in each sub-band (or equivalent). Higher-level programs require higher IELTS or equivalent test score for entry. See table opposite for details.

BE is ICTE's most popular English language pathway with multiple entry points for admission into undergraduate and postgraduate programs at UQ including Study Abroad. The course will develop your proficiency in all four skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking), as well as systematically building your range of vocabulary and control of grammar.

Within the BE there are two options:

• BE Advantage

The BE Advantage finishes five to six weeks before semester commences. This means that if you do not pass the BE assessment the first time, you are able to complete the four-week BE Extension and re-sit the BE assessment before the UQ semester commences. If you pass the BE assessment you have the option to enhance your academic English by completing the optional Academic Communication Skills (ACS) course.

• BE Standard

The BE Standard finishes immediately before the start of the UQ semester. Due to time constraints, ACS and BE Extension are not available with this option. If you do not achieve the required English language level to enter your UQ program, you will need to start at a later date.

Choose BE if:

- you want to gain entry into a UQ program without having to sit an IELTS test at the end of your course
- you want to study with high-quality teachers in a course solely focused on helping you to gain entry into a UQ program
- you want to complete your assessment five to six weeks before the start of the UQ semester
- you would like the opportunity for one-on-one consultation sessions every five weeks to ensure you are on track with your English language progress to reach your academic goals.

For further information on this course, visit icte.uq.edu.au/study/english-courses/bridging-english or scan the QR code at right.

English for Academic Purposes (EAP)

Duration 5 to 30 weeks depending on your English level and UQ program entry requirements (see table opposite).

Weekly tuition fee $440*

Campus UQ St Lucia

Minimum admission requirements Successful completion of ICTE General English level 4 or IELTS 5.0 overall with minimum sub-score requirements (see table opposite). Higher level programs require higher IELTS or equivalent test score for entry. See table opposite for details.

EAP prepares you for success in academic study and the IELTS test needed for entry to your UQ program. Course materials build your English language proficiency needed to enter university and academic skills required to succeed.

Choose EAP if:

- you want to become more familiar with and prepare for the IELTS test with three days per week of dedicated IELTS preparation
- you want to combine preparation for the IELTS test with a focus on broader academic English skills
- you do not have the IELTS score to enter BE, and you wish to study with high-quality teachers to improve your English proficiency for entry into a UQ program.

For further information on this course, visit icte.uq.edu.au/study/english-courses/academic-english or scan the QR code at right.

Agriculture and Environment

Balance our relationship with the earth

Agriculture and food science

Our challenge is to increase agricultural produce with the lowest possible impact on the environment. We offer first-class programs in agriculture, agribusiness and the food, plant, soil and animal sciences. We research with over 70 industry partners around the world to inform our teaching and student development. On graduation, you will be ready to influence the future of climate change, food security, biosecurity and the protection of endangered wildlife.

Environmental management

Increase your understanding of the environmental sciences with an added focus on social and economic disciplines, decision-making, problem solving and policy analysis. Our lecturers are experts in their fields, shaping policy for government, commerce and industry. Students enjoy dedicated geography and marine labs and the latest technologies, including a climate station and portable weather stations. You will apply your knowledge in field trips and industry placements to gain experience and enhance your career prospects.

Careers

With the world's population set to increase by 2 billion persons by 2050, food and fibre production must increase by 70 per cent. Studying agriculture will take you beyond traditional farming practices to meet this need in industries like agribusiness, agricultural science and food science.

Environmental managers take a critical look at the causes of environmental problems and develop ways of managing and solving them. Tackle the big issues like climate change, pollution and land clearing for consultancies, mining companies, government, landcare groups, and non-government organisations.

Program overview

The Master of Agribusiness will help future-proof your career, whether you are working in agribusiness and would like to upgrade your management qualifications, redirect your career into agribusiness, or are a new graduate in business or agricultural-related sciences. During this program, you will explore aspects of the supply chain to confidently work with small- and large-scale producers, processors, logistics companies, financial institutions and international retailers to deliver high-quality and affordable products to the world. You will build on your existing knowledge of the food and fibre industries, develop a deep understanding of modern agribusiness practices, and investigate emerging technologies, business communication and the latest sustainability practices.

Program features

- ★ UQ is ranked 1st in Australia and 5th in the world in agriculture (Performance Ranking of Scientific Papers for World Universities, 2019).
- ★ UQ's field of agriculture and forestry is ranked 1st in Australia and 17th in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ Students will learn to apply Australian agricultural technology and techniques, network with industry partners and internationally experienced academics and access research topics to improve the livelihoods of smallholder farmers at home and in developing countries.

Career opportunities

Agribusiness graduates typically enjoy excellent employment rates and above-average salaries, and opportunities in agribusiness are numerous and diverse. Graduates usually work in the following sectors: environment and sustainability, development and international aid, economics, logistics, marketing and business, primary production, research, life sciences, and finance and government.

Program overview

Are you ready to consolidate your leadership, research and problem-solving skills to meet the global challenges of animal welfare, biosecurity and competition for limited resources? The Master of Animal Science program is ideal if you are a graduate or professional seeking to expand your career prospects into a wide range of government, commercial, community or research roles in the broad fields of agriculture and environment. You'll extend your knowledge of the care and management of a variety of animal species through the specialist fields of Equine Science, Production Animal Science and Wildlife Biology. In your final year you'll have the opportunity to specialise in research, if you wish to go on to a research career, or gain industry experience to improve your employability once you have graduated.

Fields of study

Equine Science • Production Animal Science • Wildlife Biology

Program features

- ★ UQ is ranked 1st in Australia and 5th in the world in agriculture (Performance Ranking of Scientific Papers for World Universities, 2019).
- ★ UQ's field of veterinary science is ranked 33rd in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ Some of our specialist research areas include animal and plant sciences, koala research, agriculture/wildlife interactions, plant propagation, soil improvement, animal welfare, thermal stress in animals, and agribusiness.
- ★ This program is taught at UQ Gatton, which is home to the Equine Specialist Hospital and the Queensland Animal Science Precinct.

Career opportunities

Graduates typically work in supervisory, consulting or management roles across the public, private and not-for-profit sectors. Specific roles might include livestock adviser or consultant, animal nutritionist or research scientist, biosecurity or customs officer, equine nutritionist or physical therapist, government livestock extension officer, livestock enterprise manager, national parks officer, park ranger, wildlife ecologist or scientist, or zookeeper and zoologist.

Program overview

Environmental management bridges the gap between science and management, incorporating fundamental biophysical and social sciences and multidisciplinary skills in environmental management, decision-making and policy. The Master of Environmental Management qualifies you as an environmental manager with a strong science background who understands sustainability and the global threats to environments. In this program, you will learn from some of the leading environmental management experts in the world. You will develop core skills in environmental management principles and approaches, problem-solving and applied research, and you will graduate with the skills to address the many issues in this highly complex and rapidly changing area. Get a competitive edge by taking part in international study opportunities, research projects and industry placements.

Program features

- ★ UQ's field of environmental sciences is ranked 1st in Australia and 11th in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ Depending on your area of study and choice of electives, you might go on field trips to locations including central and western Queensland, Far North Queensland, or Hong Kong.

Career opportunities

Graduates typically find employment in managerial, research, administrative and educational roles within consultancies, private companies, government departments, landcare and catchment management groups, and national and international non-government organisations. Specific opportunities exist in national parks and wildlife conservation, environmental assessment and compliance, natural resource management, including coastal, river and catchment systems, policy development, government and commercial consultancies in environmental planning and management, mining, environmental tourism, and environmental management.

Architecture and Planning

Create spaces that matter

Addressing world issues

Our outlook is international. We engage with climate, geographic and social conditions in our design and planning to come up with practical solutions to common problems. We help to advance knowledge of the issues affecting our physical environment like climate change, urbanisation and natural resource management.

Helping you succeed

Our programs give you the skills and qualifications to create spaces that matter. You will be taught by a mix of internationally renowned scholars, experienced practitioners and talented architects. Courses are designed around studios where students can explore their interests in a collaborative environment. We make sure you get hands-on experience in community-based projects with real clients, so you know what it takes to succeed as a professional.

Careers

As our cities and towns become denser, we need living and working spaces that enhance our quality of life. Architects design these spaces. Make a career out of designing buildings, lead major design practices, manage property developments, build your own company, write for an architecture journal, or work as a visualiser. Quality architects are always in demand.

Our urban environments need to strike a balance between design, infrastructure and lifestyle. Planners shape our cities and towns to create vibrant communities. Work for government, consultancy firms, property developers, private companies, or community groups.

					Non-UQ Bachelor of Architecture (or equivalent degree)	4	6 months relevant work experience, and minimum GPA of 5 in each of the two most recent design courses in architectural studies at either bachelor's or master's level

Do you want to positively contribute to the shaping of our built environment and culture, and influence the future personal and professional spaces? The Master of Architecture is the second stage of UQ's architecture program, providing you with the necessary skills, experience and qualifications for your registration as a professional architect. You will undertake a range of courses designed to broaden your creative design skills and develop advanced technical and professional skills. This program provides opportunities to research environmental design, architectural technology, history and theory, and professional practice. UQ's six core studio offerings span commercial, institutional and residential architecture, landscape and architecture, urban design, and adaptive re-use.

Program features

★ UQ is one of the few Australian universities to offer dedicated, always-open design studios for students.

Career opportunities

To legally call yourself an architect, you have to register with a state or territory architect registration board.

There are eight boards in Australia – UQ's Master of Architecture is accredited by all of them. Graduates might work on residential buildings, commercial buildings, public infrastructure, or non-building work. Other areas include heritage and conservation, construction and project management, interior design, urban planning, research and education, and consultancy work.

Placement

“At university I wanted to do a degree that was creative as well as technical. UQ’s Master of Architecture ticked both of those boxes and was also the best university in Queensland, so was an obvious first preference.

I had visited the University before I started the Master’s program and was absolutely awestruck by the beautiful campus – it was just amazing.

My best experience while studying at UQ was a field trip to the office of Woods Bagot, an internationally renowned architecture firm. It was the first time I had visited an architecture firm and it was both inspiring and a great learning experience.”

Bansi Vekaria, India

Master of Architecture

UQ is one of the few Australian universities to offer dedicated design studios that are open 24/7. These are principal learning spaces for students, alongside the workshop and fabrication and computer labs for testing your ideas and developing your designs.

Program overview

The Master of Advanced Economics is our flagship master's program and offers high-level, cutting-edge training in formal techniques of economic analysis and econometrics at a level similar to the first year in a US PhD program. This course can be used as a pathway to a PhD or as a standalone advanced Economics training credential appropriate for private and public sector professional economists. The two-semester version consists entirely of technically challenging coursework, but those who want to demonstrate their capacities in applying techniques from the program can enrol for the extended version and undertake a research thesis over the next semester. To apply, you need to have a relevant bachelor, honours or master's degree, preferably in economics or another quantitative discipline.

Program features

★ UQ's School of Economics is ranked in the top two economics research institutions in Australia (RePEC, February 2019).

★ Provides a pathway to the School of Economics PhD program.

Career opportunities

Graduates will have analytical and modeling skills that are in demand within Australia and internationally in top-tier public- and private-sector organisations, such as reserve banks, treasury and competition/regulation bodies, international monetary organisations, utility companies and major economic consulting and forecasting companies. These skills may also enable progression towards academic careers by opening pathways to PhD programs in economics at UQ or other high-ranking universities.

Program overview

Our Master of Applied Econometrics programs will advance your ability to analyse data and interpret the results. You will build expertise in the application of mathematical and statistical methods to economic data, so you can inform decision-making, predict change and provide quantitative insight into economic relationships. You will develop advanced-level quantitative skills and abilities in critical and analytical thinking and logic. Compulsory courses will cover core areas including advanced microeconomics, advanced macroeconomics, and macroeconomics and finance. You can also choose from a diverse range of electives to tailor your studies to your personal interests and career goals. The skills and knowledge you acquire can be applied in a wide variety of economics and finance-related fields, including quantitative finance, environmental and natural resources management, health, public sector management, business and economic modelling.

Program features

★ UQ's School of Economics is ranked in the top two economics research institutions in Australia (RePEC, February 2019).

★ You can participate in the Community Engagement Program, which gives you opportunities to work on real-life projects with not-for-profit and community organisations.

Career opportunities

In the private sector, graduates typically work in finance, insurance and banking; or as stockbrokers and for consulting firms, where they study economic trends, marketing and business in areas like market research, logistics, and quantitative business analysis. In the public sector, they are employed in policy or treasury, or work for bodies such as the Australian Bureau of Statistics, the Australian Tax Office and the Reserve Bank of Australia. Previous School of Economics graduates have studied at Yale, Harvard, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Oxford.

See details: Master of Development Economics (above), Master of Economics and Public Policy (page 53)

Program overview

The dual degree of the Master of Development Economics and Master of Economics and Public Policy offers students the opportunity to combine a deep understanding of economic development theory with a thorough understanding of how government policy is developed and rolled out. This allows students to be fully equipped for a career in central government economic development. Students will study a program with a strong emphasis on quantitative techniques in econometrics, benefit-cost analysis and operations research (MDevEcon), alongside an economics-centred, multidisciplinary program (MEconPP). A range of electives are available, allowing study in fields such as health, environment, innovation and competition policy, international economics and politics, and quantitative techniques for project appraisals. This dual program will allow students to complete the requirements for two master's degrees over a two-year study period, rather than three years if the programs were taken separately.

Program features

- ★ Graduate with two master's degrees in two years.

Career opportunities

Our graduates are sought after in economic policy areas within governments at local, state and federal levels, and internationally. In Australia and internationally, our graduates have secured jobs with central banks, public sector agencies, policy review and advisory boards, international organisations – including the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development and the International Monetary Fund – and international financial institutions, such as the World Bank.

					7 years full-time work experience in business or economics	–	–

Program overview

Acquire a foundation in core economic principles and concepts such as microeconomics, macroeconomics, mathematics and statistics with this four-course postgraduate certificate. You will develop sharp analytical and critical-thinking skills, which are highly valued in a number of workplaces. This program is ideal for students without an economics background. It will boost your business career or pave the way for further study, and reveal new ways of understanding the world. You could use your qualifications as a pathway to one of our prestigious and respected two-year master's programs, which provide advanced training in the fundamentals you will learn in this certificate. Graduates of the program have found success in competitive, fast-moving organisations in Australia and overseas.

Program features

- ★ Graduates have the opportunity to pursue further study and enrol in the Graduate Diploma in Economics, or one of our two-year economics master's programs.

Career opportunities

Graduates of the Graduate Certificate in Economic Studies possess core knowledge and skills that are valuable in a large number of workplaces. Qualifications in economics have allowed a great number of our graduates to progress further in their existing professional careers, or move into new roles that involve more economic analysis. Other graduates choose to advance their studies further and enrol in a Graduate Diploma in Economics, or one of our two-year economics master's programs.

Program overview

The Master of Global Management is designed to broaden your horizons and open doors to an international business career. You not only benefit from valuable exposure to the global business environment, but also gain two postgraduate degrees from two world-leading business schools in two years. You will study for one year at UQ's St Lucia campus, and then one year at an approved, prestigious partner institution in Finland, Italy, France, Norway or Canada. This program will help you build the skills and experience you need to become a business leader in today's highly connected, multicultural world. You will study topics including international business operations, globalisation and the world economy, and cross-cultural management, complemented by a selection of courses from the program's specialised fields of study, or any approved combination of courses that suit your goals and interests.

Fields of study

International Economics and Finance • International Enterprise Management • International Tourism

Program features

- ★ Spend your first year studying at UQ Business School, and your second year studying in Europe or Canada.
- ★ Graduate with two degrees – a Master of Global Management from UQ, and either:
 - Master of International Business (Canada), or
 - Master in Management and International Business (Finland), or
 - Master in International Management (Italy), or
 - Master of Science in Management (France), or
 - Master of Science in Economics and Business Administration (Norway).

Career opportunities

Graduates typically find careers as managers, strategists and consultants in large international businesses and government organisations, and with global agencies and organisations that have international operations.

					Equivalent academic or professional qualification in law and be able to demonstrate you have the requisite knowledge to complete the program.

Program overview

The Master of Laws program will enhance your theoretical and practical legal expertise. It is designed for recent law graduates and established legal professionals wishing to deepen their legal knowledge or break into new fields of law. You will improve your critical thinking and research skills as you study courses driven by the needs of contemporary legal practice. These include courses in highly specialised areas, such as corporate and commercial law, and international trade and maritime law, as well as courses with an international focus in both public and private law providing you with the opportunity to look beyond domestic law. Please note that not all courses are offered each year.

Program features

★ UQ's field of law is ranked 43rd in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).

★ Master of Laws lecturers include renowned academics, legal practitioners, judges, and international scholars.

Career opportunities

The Master of Laws (LLM) accelerates your career progression. Courses are presented by internationally recognised legal scholars and visiting practitioners who are passionate about the law and selected for their experience and expertise. Many graduates complete the LLM to deepen existing expertise, allowing them to pursue specialist accreditation. Other graduates have a goal of breaking into a new area of practice. Completing the LLM gives you advanced knowledge of new areas of law, putting you in contention for globally competitive legal careers. Graduates with academic aspirations may enrol in research courses during their LLM studies to give them a foundation of advanced legal knowledge before enrolling in a Master of Philosophy or PhD program.

Engineering and Computing

The world needs creative problem solvers

Solving problems

For us, it starts with the spark. That craving you have to solve problems. It could be anything – protecting the planet, reimagining urban infrastructure, improving cyber security, or creating uncomplicated human-centred digital products. As long as it's there, we'll help you explore it – by encouraging your intellectual boldness, honing your skills and bringing out your capacity to lead others towards positive and impactful change.

Innovation

You will be taught by a mix of internationally renowned lecturers, industry professionals and leading researchers. Our programs focus on developing your understanding of the business environment so you can make better decisions in class and in your professional career. By the time you graduate, you'll possess a distinct blend of creative and practical abilities, where every decision you make is ingrained in sustainability – and benefits people and communities all over the world.

Careers

The world needs structural solutions for our expanding cities, and we need computer systems to enhance the efficiency of our organisations, companies and lives.

You can find work in research, development, design, manufacturing and operations within engineering firms, IT corporations, government, companies, consultants and non-government organisations. Or you can come up with your own entrepreneurial idea, and use the resources available at UQ's Idea Hub to start your own business.

UQ facilities include dedicated student spaces with 24-hour access for collaborative work and individual study.

UQ has laboratories and workshops to support prototyping in design projects, including 3D printing, laser cutting, professional image and video editing software, and a multitude of sensors and microelectronic devices.

Program overview

Change is the only constant in the world of computing. If you're an ICT professional looking to upgrade, update or deepen your knowledge of rapidly evolving technologies – this program is for you. Whether you want to move into a leadership position or undertake a research degree, you can enrol in this program to boost your skills or gain expertise in a specific area such as information systems, software engineering, distributed systems, networks, security of computing systems and other ICT areas.

Program features

★ UQ's field of computer science and information systems is ranked among the top 100 in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).

★ The school is home to facilities including more than 400 Windows, Unix and Apple workstations; more than 16 specialist computer labs (including 10 with 24-hour access); a university-wide 802.11ac Wi-Fi network; and dedicated IT and engineering support staff.

Career opportunities

The Master of Computer Science equips students with advanced-level knowledge and skills in relevant areas such as information systems, software engineering, distributed systems, networks, research and security. Some graduates choose to study higher degrees and go on to research positions at universities or other major research organisations. Other graduates work in industry – as analysts, engineers, administrators, developers, project managers and in specialist roles – with an increasing number of graduates employed in banking, finance and insurance.

Program overview

This program will expand your knowledge of computing and sharpen your business acumen so you can better create and manage great ideas. The combination of information and communications technology (ICT) and management skills is currently a crucial requirement for candidates seeking employment in the ICT industry. The job market is changing: the demand for pure information technology and computer science jobs are diminishing, while the demand for IT professionals with good business and management skills is growing. You have the flexibility to either upgrade general ICT skills or focus on a specific area such as information systems, software engineering, distributed systems, computer networks or information security.

Program features

★ UQ's field of computer science and information systems is ranked among the top 100 in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).

★ You can choose from nearly 60 courses.

Career opportunities

Graduates of the Master of Computer Science (Management) are typically interested in becoming managers or entrepreneurs in the technology sector. Graduates work across a variety of fields and professions. Many graduates pursue business roles in areas including strategy, digital marketing, product management, or consulting. Other graduates work in industry – as analysts, engineers, administrators, developers, project managers and in specialist roles – with an increasing number of graduates employed in banking, finance and insurance.

Program overview

To get ahead in cyber security you need more than just technical skills. This program will develop your broader strategic cyber security insight while deepening specialist skills and experience – preparing you to lead at a technological, organisational or policy level. Study specialised topics such as cryptography, cyber criminology, cyber defence and leadership to develop an understanding of the global cyber security landscape, informed by industry and government experts. You will undertake an integrated learning experience and advance your professional network by working with a cohort from diverse backgrounds in technology, business, mathematics, social science and law.

Fields of study

Cryptography • Cyber Criminology • Cyber Defence • Leadership

Program features

★ This new program is aligned to the National Institute of Standards and Technology's internationally recognised NICE Cybersecurity Workforce Framework – the gold-standard around the world for cyber security education and job alignment.

★ This is the first program to genuinely address the interdisciplinary nature of the field – bringing together technology, business, mathematics, social science and law to offer an integrated learning experience while also meeting the need for deep technical specialisation in one of four selected discipline areas.

Career opportunities

Cyber security jobs are fast becoming the highest-paying jobs in the IT sector. This program aims to create specialists with a deep understanding of cyber security's impact on every aspect of modern life, and to empower cyber security leaders for a resilient, more productive digital future. You can expect to find employment in cyber defence as a vulnerability and penetration tester, incident responder, intelligence analyst or security analyst; leadership as a CIO, CISO, policy advisor, consultant, cyber security trainer or security architect; cyber criminology as a policy advisor, criminal justice, intelligence analyst or in law enforcement; or cryptography as a crypto-analyst, crypto software developer or cryptography researcher.

Program overview

The Master of Data Science is the first program of its kind offered in Australia, designed specifically to solve contemporary big data challenges across business, social, government and health data. The program is highly advanced with extensive industry contact and professional placement opportunities, and offers you a cross-disciplinary education in advanced computing, mathematics and statistics courses specifically tailored to data science. The graduate profile will include fundamental attributes of effective communication, creative and disruptive thinking applied to complex problems, and hands-on experience with dominant market tools in the big data space.

Program features

★ Data science is one of the most in-demand professions globally. UQ has a growing network of industry partners who will ensure you receive hands-on training and experience to be job-ready and well-aligned with industry demands and expectations.

Career opportunities

Master of Data Science graduates will be expertly prepared to work in Australia or overseas across a large number of industry sectors, government agencies and technology companies, as well as in consulting and market-research firms.

Program overview

The 21st century engineer is now someone with a truly global outlook who addresses increasingly complex and interdisciplinary challenges. UQ's two-year and three-year Master of Engineering gives you greater specialisation opportunities and specialist skills development to tackle current and future issues facing society. The program will allow you to advance your engineering knowledge and skills in one of a range of specialised fields and demonstrate your learning through practice-focused and advanced technical courses, experiential learning experiences and research projects.

Fields of study

Bioengineering • Chemical Engineering • Civil Engineering • Electrical Engineering • Materials and Manufacturing Engineering (only in 4-semester program) • Mechanical Engineering • Petroleum Engineering • Renewable Energy Engineering • Software Engineering • Urban Water Engineering

Program features

- ★ UQ's field of chemical engineering is ranked 33rd in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ UQ's field of civil and structural engineering is ranked 36th in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ UQ's Master of Engineering has been designed to include business and innovation courses so graduating students are better prepared to take on more senior, leadership roles.
- ★ All students complete a two-semester research project or industry placement as part of this program.
- ★ Across each field, students will develop technical expertise in their discipline through specialised advanced and masters level courses.

Career opportunities

Graduates of the Master of Engineering are equipped with the specialist knowledge, technical skills and business acumen needed for leadership roles within their chosen engineering discipline. The program is a pathway to becoming an accredited engineer and opens doors to an array of industries, from consulting firms to forensic investigation companies, or working in areas such as chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical, mining, renewable energy and software.

Program overview

Do you want to build your knowledge of current and emerging IT concepts and techniques? This program will advance your skills in web and software development, information systems and research, along with other aspects of IT. The Master of Information Technology is designed for students who do not have a previous IT degree and want to enhance their current discipline areas through specialist IT knowledge. Core courses are combined with design computing team projects and a capstone research project. Both introductory and advanced electives are available in areas including computer systems, web information systems, human-computer interaction, artificial intelligence, networks and computer security.

Program features

- ★ UQ's field of computer science and information systems is ranked among the top 100 in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ The school is home to facilities including more than 400 Windows, Unix and Apple workstations; more than 16 specialist computer labs (including 10 with 24-hour access); a university-wide 802.11ac Wi-Fi network; and dedicated IT and engineering support staff.

Career opportunities

Graduates are typically employed in areas as diverse as e-commerce, information systems, technology management, health, records management, geographic information systems and client services. Many of our graduates use their qualifications as a way of moving ahead with their careers – whatever industry they work in – or use the Master of Information Technology to further their research ambitions.

				ENGLISH	YOUR CURRENT QUALIFICATION	GPA
4 semesters	1 (22 Feb 2021) 2 (26 July 2021)	$22,560	St Lucia	Minimum, see page 92	Approved degree (in a discipline other than interaction design or information environments)	5

Program overview

Interaction with electronic devices through computer-based technology, networks and telecommunication, is a major part of our daily lives and will become increasingly important in the future. The emerging challenges in this radically evolving field are not solely with the nature of new technologies, but with their design. Postgraduate studies in Interaction Design at UQ will train you to understand contexts of technology use and solve usability problems. You will explore design issues related to physical and digital environments that support interaction between people and technology across multiple disciplines and specialist areas.

Program features

- ★ Interaction design professionals work in multidisciplinary teams to address open-ended, real-life design projects. Your program simulates this environment through studio-based and project courses.

Career opportunities

Graduates typically work across the public and private sectors. Employers include technology companies, banking and financial services, digital agencies, media companies, government agencies and health providers. Because the program has a strong emphasis on research and research skills, other students work in research or advisory positions, or choose to enrol in a Master of Philosophy or PhD program.

Program overview

The Master of Sustainable Energy aims to equip the next generation of energy leaders, managers and decision-makers with the skills and knowledge to address the challenges at the nexus of energy, climate change and sustainability. As one of the few programs in the world to offer you a cross-disciplinary education with direct industry contact and practical experience, you will gain a deeper understanding and appreciation of energy systems, responsible business practice and contemporary energy challenges.

Program features

- ★ Some courses involve site visits to let you see first-hand the changing landscape of energy and power generation in Australia.
- ★ UQ offers several scholarships for high-calibre candidates who want to study the Master of Sustainable Energy.
- ★ All coursework in this program is taught in five-day intensive blocks at our St Lucia campus. Some courses also require online discussions and field trips.
- ★ A MicroMasters® option is also available for some of this program via edX.org (edx.org/micromasters/uqx-sustainable-energy).

Career opportunities

Graduates of the Master of Sustainable Energy typically work in and move across a large number of industries and sectors, where they develop innovative solutions for energy problems. Many graduates study the program for professional development reasons and proceed to leadership or management positions in industry, consultancy, government, or in non-government organisations and international agencies.

Commitment to health

At UQ, we're committed to health in a big way. From the molecular to the macro, from the laboratory bench to the bedside, and from biomedical to behavioural sciences, we seek to advance understanding, build better health services, and make you a leader and innovator of the future.

Pathway to an exciting career

We offer one of the widest range of health study areas in Australia. A hands-on approach and cutting-edge research are built into our teaching, to prepare you for all types of care situations. We maintain close partnerships with major healthcare providers to inform our teaching, research and clinical engagement. Placements are important steps in your study program to expand your professional network, decide on your specialty and prepare for an exciting career.

Careers

There is a shortage of doctors around the world as life expectancy increases. The health sector is seeking alternatives to costly hospital-based models, leading to greater demand for professionals who can help prevent rather than treat disease and injury. It is an exciting time for a career in health.

You can become an audiologist, biomedical scientist, dentist, doctor, dietitian, physiotherapist, public health worker, nurse, speech pathologist, social worker, pharmacist or psychologist. Work in local public hospitals or private practices, or travel the world doing what you love.

MASTER OF AUDIOLOGY STUDIES

				ENGLISH	YOUR CURRENT QUALIFICATION	RELEVANT DISCIPLINES	ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS	APPLICATION CLOSING DATE
4 semesters	1 (22 Feb 2021)	$23,568	St Lucia	Higher-than-minimum, see page 93	Bachelor's degree	A bachelor's degree in fields such as health, humanities, education, social, physical or biological sciences is recommended	This program has pre-placement requirements that must be met prior to commencement of the program or a placement course. Further details can be found on the Placement Ready website.	30 Nov 2020

Program overview

Audiologists play an essential role in improving hearing health and wellbeing in adults and children. Audiologists make a difference to the lives of others and are in high demand due to their specialist skills in helping people with hearing difficulties. The program integrates the theoretical foundations of audiology with practical clinical skills in preparation for a career as a clinical audiologist. You will also gain the ability to contribute to the development of clinical audiology by completing your own research.

Program features

- ★ We are the only university in Queensland to provide a tertiary-level qualification in audiology, and we have an international reputation for the quality of our graduates.

- ★ UQ has a dedicated Audiology Clinic where you will develop your clinical skills during your studies. You will be placed in clinics in Brisbane, Queensland and around Australia and it may also be possible to complete placements overseas.
- ★ The School of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences is ranked number one in overall student satisfaction within UQ (UQ Course Experience Questionnaire (CEQ) 2017).

Career opportunities

Graduates of the Master of Audiology Studies work across the private, public and not-for-profit sectors. They might work in government-funded hearing services, public and private hospitals, community health centres and agencies, rehabilitation units, preschools, kindergartens and child care centres, aged-care/high-care facilities, private practice, and government and non-government institutions and organisations.

	2 (26 July 2021)				UQ Graduate Diploma in Biostatistics

Program overview

If you like maths and quantitative problems and want to contribute to the advancement of broader scientific understanding, you will be well suited to the study of biostatistics. Biostatistics is the specialised application of statistics, involving study design, data collection, data analysis and interpretation, to measure, understand and solve medical problems. The Biostatistics program aims to fill the gap between programs in public health and epidemiology and general statistics programs. In this program, you will develop critical analysis expertise and interpretation skills, and the ability to apply relevant research findings.

Program features

- ★ UQ's broad field of life sciences and medicine is ranked 33rd in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).

- ★ This program is delivered online.
- ★ There is an ongoing shortage of biostatisticians, both in Australia and internationally.
- ★ UQ is ranked equal 1st in Australia and 23rd in the world for public health (ShanghaiRanking's Global Ranking of Academic Subjects, 2019).

Career opportunities

Our graduates contribute to all fields of medical research and healthcare. If you enjoy collecting and studying information to forecast and draw conclusions, biostatistics could be your perfect health career. As there is an ongoing shortage of skilled biostatisticians in Australia and around the world, our graduates are in high demand in the public health sector, medical research and the pharmaceutical industry. With postgraduate biostatistics qualifications, our graduates have contributed to positive change in a variety of global roles including a longitudinal study on Australian women's health, studying air quality near a bus tunnel in Seattle, and monitoring and evaluating data on infections in hospitals in the United Kingdom.

DOCTOR OF CLINICAL DENTISTRY

DURATION	START SEMESTER	FEE (1 ST SEM)	CAMPUS	ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS			APPLICATION CLOSING DATE
				ENGLISH	YOUR CURRENT QUALIFICATION	ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS
6 semesters	1 (18 Jan 2021)	$36,536	Herston	Higher-than-minimum, see page 93	An approved degree in dentistry (or equivalent)	2 years graduate clinical experience (full-time) and registration with the Dental Board of Australia. A personal statement and supporting documentation must be submitted with your application. A request for referee reports will be emailed to your nominated referees (two required) once your online application is submitted. Shortlisted applicants will be required to undertake a Clinical Assessment Program in Brisbane.	12 April 2020

Program overview

The Doctor of Clinical Dentistry degree is designed for dental graduates to train in a specialty. The content of your program will vary depending on the field of study related to your chosen specialisation. The program will provide you with advanced understanding, diagnostic skills and clinical competence in your chosen field. You will develop an understanding of scientific methodology and the role of research in knowledge and clinical practice. You will undertake practical experience at the public dental clinics located at the purpose-built Oral Health Centre (OHC), hospitals and external healthcare facilities. The OHC is the nation's largest and most advanced tertiary oral health facility and features state-of-the-art facilities and technology.

Fields of study

Dento-Maxillofacial Radiology • Endodontics • Oral Medicine • Orthodontics • Periodontics • Prosthodontics • Special Needs Dentistry

Program features

- ★ You will learn in the purpose-built $138 million UQ Oral Health Centre. With more than 150 dental chairs in 11 clinics, it is the largest and most advanced tertiary oral health facility in Australia.
- ★ Depending on your specialisation, you will undertake placements in major hospitals and health facilities around Brisbane as a part of your training.
- ★ We keep student numbers low across all fields in the Doctor of Clinical Dentistry so you work in a supportive and close-knit environment.

Career opportunities

Graduates of the Doctor of Clinical Dentistry can apply for specialist registration with the Dental Board of Australia. If you completed your undergraduate studies outside of Australia, you will also have to pass additional examinations set by the Australian Dental Council before you can apply for specialist registration in Australia. Specialist dentists typically open their own private practice, work in an established practice, or join a partnership. Within the public sector, there are opportunities to work within hospitals, community health services or school-based dental clinics.

MASTER OF MEDICINE

World's Top 50

				ENGLISH	YOUR CURRENT QUALIFICATION	ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS	APPLICATION CLOSING DATE
4 semesters part-time	1 (22 Feb 2021) 2 (26 July 2021)	$10,160	Online	Higher-than-minimum see page 93	Approved degree in medicine	At least 2 years full-time post-qualification clinical practice	31 Jan 2021 (Sem 1) 30 Jun 2021 (Sem 2)

Program overview

The Master of Medicine (Skin Cancer) is an online coursework program designed to give flexible training in the biology, diagnosis and principles of management of skin cancer. It is suitable for doctors and health practitioners wishing to enhance their skills and knowledge in this area of practice.

Field of study

Skin Cancer

Program features

- ★ UQ's field of medicine is ranked 49th in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).

- ★ This program is suitable for doctors who are preparing for a Fellowship pathway in one of the following medical or surgical colleges: surgical oncology; ear, nose and throat (ENT); plastic surgery; anatomical pathology; dermatology; radiation oncology; and primary care/specialist practice.
- ★ Benefit from our world-leading skin cancer research.
- ★ This online program has a flexible structure that can fit around busy schedules.

Career opportunities

There is a shortage of health practitioners with expert knowledge of skin cancer. With skin cancer being one of the most common forms of cancer, and with incidence increasing, the need for skilled diagnosis and treatment is growing. For those interested in pursuing fellowship it helps prepare the theoretical aspects of skin cancer practice. The options to study epidemiology, research and health promotion electives extends opportunities for progression into a higher degree by research (HDR) and/or into the area of skin cancer related health policy and promotion.

Program overview

It's been estimated that every 15 seconds, a worker dies from a work-related accident or disease. Occupational health and safety (OHS) is a crucially important field, which is rapidly growing and offers excellent employment opportunities. This program will give you the knowledge, practical skills and professional attributes to provide greater protection to workers in every sector. You will learn about industry hazards (chemical, physical, mechanical, biological and psychosocial) within the context of the OHS disciplines of occupational hygiene, ergonomics, occupational health, safety science and risk management.

Program features

- ★ Learn from leading OHS experts in Australia in a program developed in response to industry demands.
- ★ Be accredited by the Australian Occupational Health and Safety Education Accreditation Board.
- ★ Courses include industry placements, practical sessions, worksite visits and industry projects, so you can apply what you're learning to current problems.

Career opportunities

With a shortage of qualified OHS professionals, particularly those with a degree based in science, our Master of Occupational Health and Safety Science graduates have a lot of options. Driven by their career goals and personal aspirations, graduates can work in a variety of industries. OHS professionals work everywhere, from sprawling cosmopolitan cities to small mining towns, and can be found anywhere there is a workplace.

Program overview

Occupational therapists help people of all ages improve their quality of life and overcome factors which affect their everyday activities. You will learn to use assessment and treatments to develop, recover or maintain the daily living and work skills of people affected by injury or illness, psychological or emotional difficulties, developmental delays or ageing. As an occupational therapist, you will work with clients to identify and eliminate environmental barriers to independence and participation in daily activities. You will do this through a range of treatment strategies designed to enhance the client's ability, such as modifying the task or environment, skill development and/or education. You will receive an overview of how environmental factors in our society – such as legislation, public and private policies and programs, and attitudes – contribute to people's experiences of inclusion and discrimination.

Program features

- ★ UQ has a dedicated occupational therapy clinic and simulated hospital ward where you will develop practical skills during your studies (as well as in hospitals, schools or private practices during placements).
- ★ The School of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences is ranked number one in overall student satisfaction within UQ (Course Experience Questionnaire, 2017).

“I was inspired to undertake the Master of Occupational Therapy Studies at UQ after I volunteered at a senior care facility for over three years and was really fascinated with the work that occupational therapists do to enable residents to fulfil their lives. The hands on component of the program was a highlight for me as it really supported me towards becoming an occupational therapist. After working for a few years I plan to continue my study and complete a PhD degree and maybe eventually become an academic.”

“I chose to study at the University of Queensland because it has one of the best physiotherapy programs in the world. I knew I wanted a different experience compared to my undergrad; I wanted to attend a world renowned institution while having the opportunity to immerse myself in a different culture and meet new people. After speaking to a few UQ trained physiotherapists back in Canada, all of them said that attending UQ was one of the best decisions that they could have ever made for themselves. That was a major element that stood out for me, and made my decision to attend UQ much easier.”

“I first visited UQ while on holiday in Australia in 2013. I was overcome by the friendliness of the staff, the beauty of the campus, and most importantly the composition of the Masters of Clinical Psychology program. UQ's involvement in quality research also appealed to me. I really enjoy the practical exercises we do in class, such as role plays and group discussion, as this not only allows me to practice my skills but to learn from my peers as well.”

Discover new worlds, big and small

World class

UQ has one of the largest science faculties in Australia with some of the world's leading scientists, teachers, science programs and commercial outcomes. We focus on groundbreaking projects like the molecular characterisation of drug-resistant bacteria and finding better treatments for illness, to solving conservation problems using mathematics and improving hydrogen bonding.

Student focused

You will have the opportunity to interact with research teams, use our world-class laboratories and contribute to our international research efforts. You will network with industry partners and work for organisations and companies during professional placements or internships. This hands-on approach is why UQ graduates enjoy high employability rates and attractive starting salaries.

Careers

As a scientist, you can become a chemist, biochemist, ecologist, geneticist or statistician in areas such as climate change, biosecurity, food, sustainable energy, disease eradication and the management of natural resources. Mathematicians and physicists are using the latest computer technology to optimise financial portfolios, predict weather patterns and build quantum systems.

Program overview

Biotechnology is a rapidly expanding field driving our current and future economy, and graduates with biotechnology qualifications are in tremendous demand globally. In this program, you'll gain a thorough understanding of a broad range of modern biotechnologies, the commercialisation of products, marketing and the business environment, including business planning and project management. You'll also learn how research and development are undertaken in industry settings.

Field of study

Agricultural Biotechnology

Program features

- ★ UQ is ranked 9th in the world and 1st in Australia for biotechnology (Global Ranking of Academic Subjects, 2019).
- ★ Choose from a wide variety of globally renowned laboratories (academic or industrial) to complete your research.

Career opportunities

Graduates work in industry, venture capital, pharmaceutical companies, research institutes and government agencies in a wide range of roles including new product design and development, regulatory affairs, quality assurance, clinical trial operations management, consulting, commercialisation officer, technology analysts and business plan analysts.

Program overview

The Master of Biotechnology Research Extensive provides advanced training in biotechnology while simultaneously developing business and workplace skills. As a student of this program, you'll look at how biotechnology can be used to advance medicines, vaccines and food production while minimising the ecological footprint of human activity. Through advanced lectures, projects and directed study, you'll gain a comprehensive knowledge of the disciplines that underpin the biotechnology industry. You'll also develop your research methodology skills and receive training in the special requirements needed to undertake research in the biotechnology industry, before undertaking your own research project.

Program overview

With capital markets and financial risk management becoming more quantitatively and computationally sophisticated, financial mathematics graduates are in high demand. The Master of Financial Mathematics will help qualify you for your next promotion in banking, insurance, investment, utilities, mining, or any other industry in which aspects of contemporary financial markets – such as international exchange rates, futures contracts and options – play a significant role. The program is tailored to build upon your background in mathematics, commerce or economics/econometrics, while developing your essential skills in quantitative and computational analysis, mathematical modelling and stochastic processes. You will graduate able to demonstrate your thorough understanding of the financial mathematics field, possessing the skills required to manage investment portfolios, develop financial products and price, and analyse business risk.

Program features

- ★ High achievers in the Master of Financial Mathematics are offered industry-based placement projects with successful Australian firms who operate in areas including banking, superannuation and energy trading.
- ★ Our researchers in the School of Mathematics and Physics have been awarded numerous ARC Fellowships, including Laureate Fellowships, Australian Professorial Fellowships, Discovery Outstanding Researcher Awards, and QEII Fellowships, so you know you're learning from the best.

Career opportunities

Graduates of the Master of Financial Mathematics typically work as quantitative analysts, market risk analysts, data scientists, risk managers and energy traders in areas such as funds management, hedge funds and superannuation; investment banking; retail banking; insurance and actuarial; energy providers and utilities; and risk management.

Program overview

This program builds on your existing knowledge and practical skills, and develops your expertise in areas such as food safety and quality management, food chemistry and microbiology, food processing and new food product development. You will apply the knowledge you develop to a research project or an industry placement. As a Food Science and Technology graduate, you will use your leadership, analytical and problem-solving skills to respond to global consumer demand for desirable, safe and nutritious food.

Program features

- ★ UQ is a global leader in food science research across subtropical and tropical production systems.
- ★ You can choose to complete a placement with one of our industry or research partners. Our academics have close working relationships with both the Australian and international food processing sectors.

Career opportunities

The food industry is the largest industry in the world and many of our graduates find careers with national and international food, wine, beer, confectionery and beverage companies, food research laboratories, flavouring manufacturers, educational institutions and government bodies. They typically work in areas of quality control, new product development, research and innovation.

Program overview

With the rapid growth of geographic data and products, employers are increasingly demanding high-quality graduates with technical and research skills in advanced areas of geographic information science. The Master of Geographic Information Science provides you with core skills in ecology, business geographics, environmental management, environmental informatics, marine and earth sciences, natural resource management, sustainability, geography, urban planning and transportation. Graduates are highly sought after for jobs in government, professional consulting and industry.

- ★ Depending on your area of study and choice of electives, you may participate in field trips to central and western Queensland, Far North Queensland and Hong Kong.

- ★ The School of Earth and Environmental Sciences is home to specialist laboratories that have applications for GIS and remote sensing, mapping, programming, graphics, 3D design, demography, statistics (SPSS and NVIVO), climatology and planning.

Career opportunities

Graduates typically work across the public and private sectors in areas including telecommunications, consulting, engineering, logistics, transport, maritime services, energy, urban development, planning and infrastructure, defence and utilities.

Program overview

If you are a nuclear medicine technologist, diagnostic radiographer, or professional in a similar field this program may be for you. Medical imaging is developing at a rapid pace and hybrid medical imaging systems are becoming more commonplace. With the blend of high-resolution magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) and the physiological data of positron emission tomography (PET), magnetic resonance and positron emission tomography (MR-PET) is making quite an impression in medical diagnosis. This program will equip you with the skills required to operate this new hybrid system by encouraging your understanding of both the MRI and PET stand-alone technologies.

Program features

- ★ UQ's broad field of life sciences and medicine is ranked 33rd in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ You will attend a one-week on-campus practical where you will operate MRI scanners, and practice scanning on human volunteers.
- ★ Our Magnetic Resonance Technology programs are offered through the Centre for Advanced Imaging, which is one of the best imaging research centres in Australia. More than 75 per cent of the MRI scanners in the world use technology based on UQ research.

Career opportunities

Our graduates use this qualification as a way of advancing their careers. This program is primarily designed for nuclear medicine technologists and diagnostic radiographers, wanting to upskill in this emerging specialisation. It may also be of interest to researchers using this exciting technology.

					Post-secondary study	2 years relevant work experience
					UQ Graduate Certificate in Magnetic Resonance Technology	-
					UQ Graduate Diploma in Magnetic Resonance Technology	-

Program overview

As one of the most powerful diagnostic tools for organs and tissues inside the body, magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) demands technologists with expert scientific and technical expertise. The Master of Magnetic Resonance Technology teaches you the physics of magnetic resonance and image formation, the components of modern MRI scanners, and the specialist practical skills essential for a dynamic career in this field. Upon graduating, you will be able to embark on projects that make innovative use of magnetic resonance, such as assessing the needs of a radiography practice and the capability of equipment from various manufacturers to meet these needs.

Program features

- ★ UQ's broad field of life sciences and medicine is ranked 33rd in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ Our Magnetic Resonance Technology programs are offered through the Centre for Advanced Imaging, which is one of the best imaging research centres in Australia. More than 75 per cent of the MRI scanners in the world use technology based on UQ research.
- ★ The teaching team in the Centre for Advanced Imaging reflects the multidisciplinary nature of the field and includes expert radiographers, clinicians, physicists, chemists and engineers.
- ★ An elective for a three-week full-time clinical placement is available.

Career opportunities

Graduates are typically capable of embarking on projects that make innovative use of magnetic resonance; assessing the effects of innovation on clinical applications; assessing the needs of a radiography practice; and assessing the capabilities of equipment from different manufacturers to meet these needs. Past graduates have found employment in leadership positions in hospitals, private practice and research facilities and organisations.

					UQ Graduate Diploma in Mineral Resources	5
					UQ Graduate Certificate in Mineral Resources	5

Program overview

The Master of Mineral Resources gives you advanced knowledge of the minerals industry, as well as the analytical skills to provide solutions to complex problems. You will gain exposure to current scientific knowledge from research experts and explore a range of strategies for its practical implementation from experienced industry associates. You can choose to specialise in exploration geology or exploration geophysics, and learn about the areas necessary for the efficient discovery and exploitation of ore deposits and energy resources.

Fields of study

Exploration Geology • Exploration Geophysics

Program features

- ★ UQ's broad field of natural sciences is ranked 77th in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ UQ is home to labs with geographic information systems and remote sensing, mapping, programming and more.
- ★ The School of Earth and Environmental Sciences has specialised facilities and microscopy equipment for laboratory research and fieldwork, including labs for argon geochronology, coal and environmental geochemistry.

- ★ Core academic staff have significant industry experience and most projects are undertaken in collaboration with industry partners.

Career opportunities

Graduates typically work across the public and private sectors, in areas including mineral and fossil fuels exploration and production, mining geology, mineral processing, natural resource management and research.

Program overview

Advances in molecular biology have transformed biological research and driven the extensive growth of the biotechnology industry, with rapid increases in molecular medicine and technology creating a high demand for skilled molecular biologists around the world. The Master of Molecular Biology exposes you to the laboratory and teaches you about bioinformatics and genomics, biomolecular structure and function, and immunology and infectious diseases. You will receive theoretical and practical training through lectures, workshops, projects and directed study. You will also gain training in research methodology in molecular biology, and have the opportunity to undertake individual research.

Program features

- ★ UQ's field of biological sciences is ranked 2nd in Australia and 37th in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ Opportunity to complete significantly more in-lab research than most other molecular biology programs.

Career opportunities

Graduates of the Master of Molecular Biology are equipped with high-level knowledge and skills relevant to modern molecular biology. Opportunities for molecular biology graduates exist across the public, private and not-for-profit sectors in areas including health, agriculture, diagnostics, the environment, food, pharmaceuticals, biotechnology, pathology and research.

Program overview

Molecular imaging is a form of biomedical imaging, which is rapidly growing in importance in the applied life sciences, and contributes in the advancement of biomedicines. The Master of Molecular Imaging Technology aims at developing international leaders in molecular imaging, by enabling students to use state-of-the-art imaging facilities and learn from an interdisciplinary teaching team of expert radiographers, clinicians, physicists, chemists and engineers. In this program students will have the opportunity to undertake courses and engage with a molecular imaging research project. It is well-suited to anyone with a background in chemistry, biology, physics, computer science, engineering, radiography and nuclear medicine technology who wish to gain in-depth knowledge and skills.

Program features

Program overview

We are now in the second quantum revolution, with rapidly growing investment to harness quantum physics for sensing, communications and computation. Developing the quantum ecosystem will require increasing familiarity with the principles of quantum mechanics in technological and engineering contexts. The Master of Quantum Technology will expose you to core and specialist courses in quantum technologies, incorporating lab-based research projects and lab or industry placements as preparation for a career in this expanding global sector.

Program features

- ★ UQ is a global leader in quantum science, hosting the Australian Centre of Excellence for Engineered Quantum Systems (EQuS) and a node of the Centre for Quantum Computation and Communications Technology (CQC2T).
- ★ UQ is home to leading experimental and theoretical research in quantum technologies, and boasts high-performance fabrication and measurement facilities in optical, superconducting, opto-mechanical and ultra-cold atomic systems.

Career opportunities

Global investment has created an estimated 20,000 specialist roles in this field with a worldwide shortage of talent in Australia, the US, China, Singapore, Taiwan, Japan and several European countries. Program overview

The Master of Science provides advanced theoretical knowledge and practical skills in the specialised scientific fields of mathematics, physics and statistics. Use this program to extend your knowledge in a particular field or choose a new specialisation to expand your skills across these disciplines. This program will equip you with the qualification you need to demonstrate you can solve problems in government and industry, and support other disciplines such as agriculture, biology, chemistry, engineering and medicine.

Fields of study

Mathematics • Physics • Statistics

Program features

- ★ UQ's statistics and operational research disciplines are ranked 43rd in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ The Faculty of Science is one of the largest Science groupings in Australia, with approximately 1100 staff and 8500 students.
- ★ You will have the opportunity to attend the Maths Colloquium Series – a regular seminar series for students and academic staff who are working in pure and applied mathematics, and statistics.

Career opportunities

Many of our Mathematics graduates study higher degrees and go on to research positions at universities and other major research institutions. The number of mathematicians employed in banking, finance, insurance and risk-management is also on the rise.

Our Physics graduates are highly valued by employers in education, finance, engineering, computing and management. Many graduates are employed in research and management positions, universities, health, research and nuclear physics. Our Statistics graduates are in high demand in business, industry, research and government, where they are employed in areas such as quality control, product development, asset and liability management, and determining risks and returns of investments.

Program overview

Are you interested in building your knowledge of veterinary diagnostic techniques, pathology and the modern field of infectious disease diagnosis? Veterinary Science at UQ attracts some of the highest-achieving students from around the world. During this program, you will complete a significant research project, learn about the pathogenesis of diseases, and improve your research skills and diagnostic techniques for the purposes of disease diagnosis, investigation, control and prevention, and the promotion of public health.

Field of study

Veterinary Diagnostic Pathology

Program features

- ★ UQ's field of veterinary science is ranked 33rd in the world (QS World University Rankings by Subject, 2019).
- ★ The School offers the latest research laboratories, teaching spaces and facilities, including veterinary laboratory services, a small animal hospital, an equine specialist hospital and an animal genetics laboratory.

Career opportunities

This program is usually undertaken for professional development reasons – updating knowledge and skills, career progression, or broadening areas of expertise. Graduates typically work in a variety of areas connected with veterinary medicine and pathology, including diagnostic laboratories, research institutions (including universities), industry (pharmaceutical, biotechnology, chemical), private practice, or government agencies that manage animal disease control.

Additional costs

Learning comes in all shapes, sizes and textures at UQ's Gatton campus. From fangs to feathers, scales to skin - staff and students at the UQ VETS Small Animal Hospital never know what patient will come through the door next.

English proficiency requirements

All students need appropriate English language skills for admission to UQ.

There are different ways you can meet our English requirements. The three most common ways are:

- a recognised qualification
- previous secondary schooling or post-secondary study, or
- English language tests.

UQ programs have either 'Minimum' or 'Higher-than-minimum' English language requirements.

These are stated within each program entry under 'English' on pages 32–91.

'Minimum' English programs

Recognised qualification: If you have obtained a recognised qualification, score or test (and satisfied relevant conditions) listed in the following table, you will likely meet UQ's English language proficiency requirements:

Note – at the time of publication, equivalent tests are not accepted for Teaching (Primary) and (Secondary) and are restricted for most other programs.

This section is only to be used as a guide and does not guarantee that you will meet UQ's English language proficiency requirements. Each application is assessed on an individual basis. For more information about UQ's English language proficiency requirements visit: future-students.uq.edu.au/admissions/english-language-requirements

If you meet your preferred program's academic requirements but NOT the English language proficiency requirements, you may apply for an ICTE English language pathway course. For more information see pages 28-31.

How to apply

STEP 1

Choose your program

- Find the program you wish to study in the Programs section on pages 32–91.
- Check you meet (or will meet) all entry and English language proficiency requirements.
- Check the application deadline has not passed.

STEP 2

Create an account

- Go to UQ's online application portal and create an account: apply.uq.edu.au.

STEP 3

Complete your application

- Complete all details requested in the online application detailing all courses you have taken and qualifications you have been awarded from institutions other than UQ, even if you think they are not relevant to your application.
TIP: You can save an incomplete form and return later.
- Attach all required documentation as per the program entry requirements and any additional information requests. You must provide complete academic transcripts and/or testamurs of your previous tertiary studies (if you have not yet completed your studies please provide a current transcript). A copy of your passport (in colour if possible) and official evidence of any name differences on your transcripts / awards is also necessary.
- If you want to apply for an English language pathway package, you can indicate this during the application process.
- In addition, you may be asked to complete and submit a Genuine Temporary Entrant (GTE) Assessment and provide a GTE Agent Checklist (if working with an agent).

STEP 4

Submit your application

- Online: a non-refundable A$100 application fee will be charged when submitting your application online. After submission, you can check the status of your application through your account.
- If you are unable to access the online application portal, please email applicationstatus@uq.edu.au to request an application form. A non-refundable A$150 application fee is payable for an email submission of an application.
- In person or by mail: If you are unable to email your application, you can submit it in person or by mail to: Future Students, Level 2, JD Story Building, St Lucia, The University of Queensland Brisbane, Queensland 4072 Australia. A non-refundable A$150 fee applies for applications that are not submitted online.
- Your application will be assessed by UQ International Admissions. They will inform you of the outcome.

International student definition

You are an international student if you are:

- not a citizen of Australia or New Zealand
- not an Australian Permanent Resident, or
- a Temporary Resident (visa status) of Australia.

You are not an international student if you are:

- an Australian citizen (living in Australia or as a resident overseas)
- an Australian Permanent Resident (visa status)
- a New Zealand citizen, or
- a holder of an Australian permanent humanitarian visa.

Permanent residency

If you have been offered a postgraduate place as an international student and become an Australian permanent resident before starting your first semester of study, you will not be able to retain your place as an international student and you must apply for enrolment as a domestic fee-paying student. Please apply to change your fee status as soon as you receive written confirmation about your new residency, visa or citizenship status.

Credit transfer and exemption for previous studies

Credit transfer for previous studies

If you have completed study elsewhere and have taken courses that are the same, or similar (in terms of level, standard and content) to courses in your UQ program, you may be eligible for credit transfer. In some instances, this will reduce the amount of time it will take to complete your UQ program. UQ recognises formal studies and recognised prior learning. You can see if your prior studies qualify through our database.

creditprecedents.app.uq.edu.au

Exemption for previous studies

If you have undertaken some prior formal or informal learning you may not have to complete some courses in your program. You will still have to complete a total number of units to graduate.

future-students.uq.edu.au/admissions/postgraduate-coursework/check-credit-eligibility

Visas

All international students applying to study in Australia must have a student visa unless they have an alternative visa that enables them to study. If you are granted a student visa, you must comply with all student visa conditions. For all visa enquiries and applications, please contact your local Australian Embassy, High Commission or Diplomatic Mission.

Applications

Closing dates

It is recommended that you submit your application no later than the dates below to ensure you have enough time to apply for a student visa. Please note that some UQ programs have earlier closing dates. See program listing for details.

Semester 1 30 November of previous year

Semester 2 31 May of same year

Assessment

Applicants are assessed on a case-by-case basis against the established entry requirements for the program concerned. For some quota programs, meeting the minimum entry requirements does not guarantee acceptance. Applicants who do not meet the academic entry requirements may wish to consider a pathway course (see page 29).

Your application status

If you have applied online, you can view the status of your application through your online application portal.

Documentation required

Academic

When you apply to UQ, please ensure that you submit certified copies of up-to-date transcripts and award certificates with your application. Grading scales will also be needed for any tertiary studies you have undertaken. Certified official translations are required for all documents in languages other than English.

English

To demonstrate your English language proficiency, you must attach copies of all relevant academic transcripts and award certificates to your application. Specific arrangements apply to IELTS, TOEFL and the Pearson Test of English (PTE) Academic.

future-students.uq.edu.au/admissions/english-language-requirements

Waiting on documents?

If you are waiting for transcripts or final results, you may still submit an application and, where possible, we will consider making a conditional offer to you. Submit your evidence of English language proficiency (unless you intend to sit a test), and any results you have so far with your application. Please upload any outstanding documents to your online application portal as soon as you receive them.

Deferrals, suspensions and cancellations

If you have a UQ offer to start in a certain semester and you wish to defer (i.e. delay commencing to a future semester), please contact the International Admissions office as soon as possible before the commencement date given on your offer. If you have already received your UQ Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE), a deferral will only be permitted if there are 'compassionate or compelling grounds'. If a deferral is not approved, you may still delay commencing, but your CoE will be cancelled. This may impact your student visa or student visa application. The University can suspend or cancel your enrolment for a number of reasons including misbehaviour, poor academic standing and unsatisfactory academic progress. Please note that any deferrals, suspensions or cancellations may affect a student visa or visa application.

PhD candidate Paula Kuo from Taiwan takes part in Industry Experience Placement with pioneering vaccine company Vaxxas, while working towards her PhD. Opportunities for industry placements can be facilitated by the Graduate School.

Higher Degrees by Research

Completing a Higher Degree by Research can advance your career opportunities, satisfy your intellectual curiosity and position you as an expert in your field, while providing you with opportunities to travel, network and explore.

Why do a Higher Degree by Research (HDR)?

Undertaking a research degree will advance your career opportunities and satisfy your intellectual curiosity. Graduates from HDR programs typically secure academic or research careers within tertiary institutions or a broad range of professional and leadership roles within industry and government.

What are UQ's Higher Degrees by Research?

Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)

A PhD is one of the highest degrees that can be awarded. It is seen as a requirement for the majority of academic and research positions in a wide range of fields and industries. The aim of a PhD is to foster the development of independent research skills.

Master of Philosophy (MPhil)

The MPhil is an internationally recognised research degree that involves undertaking a significant research project. It provides candidates with an opportunity to develop and enhance analytical and research skills through independent investigation in a specific field.

Doctor of Biotechnology (DBiotech)

The DBiotech program is designed to train scientists to develop an understanding of management issues for research enterprises and technology ventures, and the integration of specialist training in the area of biotechnology and research.

The doctorate includes one semester of advanced coursework in an area such as intellectual property management, regulatory and legal issues, innovation and entrepreneurship and biotechnology venture management. The program also includes a one-semester professional placement in industry and a two-year research project and thesis, which generally focuses on the technology transfer, legal, regulatory, quality or production aspects of biotechnology.

Doctor of Veterinary Clinical Science (DVetClinSci)

If you are a practising veterinarian who would like to specialise, the DVetClinSci is the next step in your journey to develop your particular skills and knowledge in the area of your choice. The program prepares veterinarians to sit specialist qualification examinations, and students undertake clinical work in an approved veterinary diagnostic laboratory (for pathology residents) or referral hospital to develop their skills to specialist level. Comprised of both coursework and research components, the program builds a firm foundation for graduates seeking career paths as clinical academics and skilled specialist practitioners.

PROGRAM	ASSESSMENT	DURATION	ENTRY REQUIREMENTS*
PhD	A thesis of no more than 80,000 words, with the research representing a significant new contribution to the discipline.	3 to 4 years	A bachelor's degree with honours class IIA or better from approved universities, which should include a relevant research component, or; a research master's degree, or; a coursework master's degree and an overall GPA equivalent to 5.65 on the 7 point UQ scale, which should include a relevant research component, or; a postgraduate degree of at least one year full-time equivalent with an overall GPA equivalent to 5.0 on the 7 point UQ scale, together with demonstrated research experience equivalent to honours IIA will be considered for PhD entry on a case by case basis, or; a bachelor's degree plus at least two years of documented relevant research experience, including research publications.
MPhil	A thesis of no more than 40,000 words that demonstrates a capacity for critical analysis and application of specialist knowledge.	1.5 to 2 years	A bachelor's degree with honours class IIB or better from approved universities, which must include relevant experience, or; a postgraduate degree of at least one year full-time equivalent and an overall GPA equivalent to 5.0 on the 7 point UQ scale, which must include relevant experience, or; a bachelor's degree plus at least two years of documented relevant experience. Evidence of other qualifications and/or experience to satisfy the Dean that the applicant is suitably qualified for admission.
DBiotech	One semester of coursework; one semester of professional practice in industry; a thesis of no more than 50,000 words that demonstrates a capacity for critical analysis and application of specialist knowledge.	3 years	Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Biotechnology with Class I or IIA honours from UQ or equivalent, or; Coursework master's with approved results in the research component and a GPA of 5.5 on the 7 point UQ scale, or; at least two years relevant professional experience and/or research publications.
DVetClinSci	Research, develop and write a thesis that makes a significant contribution to the field, and undertake advanced coursework and clinical work to develop skills to specialist level. The courses offered in the Doctor of Veterinary Clinical Science are set out in the course list and the program rules explain what is required to complete the program. These requirements include the total number of units needed to complete in order to graduate.	3.5 years	Bachelor of Veterinary Science (Honours) with honours class I or IIA or an equivalent approved degree and at least 2 years postgraduate clinical experience; applicants may be required to attend an interview and must be eligible for registration with the Queensland Veterinary Surgeons Board.

*International students whose first language is not English must demonstrate that they meet the University's English language proficiency requirements (see pages 92-93).

Reach your research and professional goals

Technology is changing our world on a global scale, affecting the way in which we live and work. To deal with these changes it will become increasingly important for HDR graduates to combine disciplinary expertise with a broader range of capabilities. Such knowledge workers, who have the ability to source information, critically assess its validity and apply it in novel and innovative ways, can make a significant contribution and develop outstanding careers in a variety of industries.

UQ's Career Development Framework (CDF) was developed in consultation with students and industry to provide the skills and personal development HDR graduates need to meet these industry changes.

Training covers topics including: research integrity, networking, communication skills and inter-cultural communication, writing skills, teamwork, CV writing, entrepreneurship, business acumen, resilience and emotional intelligence.

Training sessions are run throughout the year which provides you with the flexibility to decide which training is right for you and when.

How to apply:

(Higher Degrees by Research)

STEP 1

Check your eligibility

Check your eligibility by reviewing the entry requirements for UQ's Higher Degrees by Research.

STEP 2

Search for a supervisor

UQ is home to over 2000 research experts and a growing community of internationally renowned scholars and scientists. Visit researchers.uq.edu.au to search for and contact potential advisors directly through the UQ Researchers database or view available supervision and projects. Some projects also have attached scholarships. graduate-school.uq.edu.au

STEP 3

Prepare
your documentation

When applying you must submit documents to support your application, such as a research proposal, academic CV, academic transcript, award certificates, proof of English language proficiency and two referee reports. If you do not upload all suggested documents, your application may be delayed or rejected.

STEP 4

Apply online

You can submit your application online. If you wish to be considered for a competitive, merit-based scholarship, simply indicate this on the application form. There is no need to fill out a separate application form.

future-students.uq.edu.au/admissions/higher-degree-research

Fee quarters

International HDR candidates at UQ enjoy a significant advantage over students at most other tertiary institutions with annual tuition fees divided into quarters instead of semesters. This reduces the pressure to submit research prematurely due to financial considerations. Research quarters are designed to match HDR student enrolment and work patterns, as well as scholarship rounds. You are required to commence your program within the first two weeks of a research quarter: January, April, July or October.

Life at UQ

UQ will be your home away from home. We offer sporting, cultural and recreational activities, we help you find accommodation, and we anticipate your unique needs from arrival to departure.

Whether you require help with learning, someone to talk to, or a lift from the airport the first time you touch down in Australia, we have you covered.

Accommodation

We have accommodation options to suit your lifestyle and make you feel at home. Live in a college on one of the best campuses in the world, go to the inner city for off-campus student accommodation, or find your own home in the private housing market.

On-campus colleges

Do you want a traditional, immersive university experience? If you are studying at one of UQ's Brisbane campuses you can live in one of the ten colleges at UQ St Lucia, or if you are studying at UQ Gatton, live at the Gatton Halls of Residence. You can walk to class, enjoy services like academic support and social and sporting activities, and your meals are provided. Plus, you will make friendships for a lifetime. Apply before you arrive to secure a room.

liveuq.edu.au

Off-campus student accommodation

Do you want to cook your own meals but still live in a student community in the inner city of Brisbane? Choose from one of our recommended student accommodation providers. A variety of studio, single bedroom apartments and twin share options are available. You can pre-book a room before you arrive.

my.uq.edu.au/student-support/accommodation/approved-providers

Private housing

Are you the more independent type? You might like to share a house or apartment with other people. Brisbane's rental market features everything from low-cost share houses to high-rise apartments, while Gatton's rental market features a range of affordable share houses. To find a room, apartment or house, first check our UQ Rentals database. There are also private rental accommodation websites and you can rent directly from real estate agents. At the start of a lease you typically pay two weeks rent in advance and

International student support

UQ has services and activities to help you settle in, make new friends, expand your skills and network, and enjoy student life right up until graduation.

SETTLING IN

Getting started

Make your transition to UQ a smooth one by attending one of our Getting Started sessions either when you arrive or during O-Week.

Attendance is compulsory for all international students. In the session, you find out: how to enrol, register for classes, get your student ID card and key UQ dates and terminology. We also tell you about what services and facilities are on campus, how to register for public transport student discounts, and what your best options are for getting to and from UQ.

Safety on campus

Our campuses are safe places for students and staff. St Lucia and Gatton campuses have 24-hour security teams. St Lucia also offers a safety escort service if you would like someone to accompany you to public transport or your car, and a Safety Bus that runs from 6pm onwards around the campus.

Plus, students can download the free UQ SafeZone app, which connects students directly with security officers or emergency services.

Cost of living

Brisbane is an affordable city offering a lower cost of living than Sydney, Melbourne, Perth and Canberra*.

To make the most of your time in Australia, we recommend you plan and budget for your study and holiday time.

*studentcities.com.au

Yearly costs

How much it will cost you to live in Brisbane will depend partly on your lifestyle preferences. For example, if you live in a share house off-campus, your yearly budget will be in the range of $12,960 – $33,060.

In addition to this amount, you will also need to consider establishment costs such as buying furniture, paying a rental bond and setting up electricity, gas and mobile phone accounts, as well as other expenses such as visa and medical fees, tuition fees, return airfares, and Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC). Remember that exchange rate variations may also affect your budget.

Monthly expenses

The table below estimates monthly expenses for studying at UQ. These estimates are a guide only and prices vary according to your lifestyle. UQ tuition fees, textbooks and study materials, clothing, entertainment, printing, and healthcare costs are in addition to the figures below.

Working while studying

If you have a student visa you can work up to 40 hours per fortnight (two-week period) during university semesters, and full-time hours during holidays. In general, students shouldn't expect to cover tuition fees or living expenses with a casual job.

If you are studying at UQ on a scholarship, you should contact your scholarship provider about how many hours you are permitted to work each week.

Student concessions

As a student, you can use your student ID to receive concession prices for public transport, the cinema, museums, software, technology and much more.

Visa information

When applying for a student visa, you must meet the Genuine Temporary Entrant criteria (immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/student-500/genuine-temporary-entrant) and have sufficient funds to pay your tuition fees, living costs (and the living costs of any dependants, if applicable) for the duration of your studies. future-students.uq.edu.au/university-life/getting-prepared-to-come-to-australia/student-visas

Bringing your family

To apply for a student visa in Australia, you need to declare that you have access to sufficient funds to pay your tuition fees and to support yourself and any dependants who are coming with you. This declaration is part of the UQ acceptance process. For children, you will also have to factor in school fees and childcare costs.

eqi.com.au/study-options/fees

If you are bringing a spouse and/or children, they will need dependant visas.

Fees and expenses

As an international student, you will pay tuition and non-tuition fees. Some programs have additional costs; see individual program listings for details.

Tuition fees

Tuition fees vary according to program. We have provided indicative semester and indicative total tuition and non-tuition fees for each program on pages 26-27. These amounts are based on a standard full-time study load, unless otherwise indicated.

UQ has program-based tuition fees for coursework award programs, meaning that all courses within a program are charged at the same tuition fee rate per unit for a given academic year. Some programs also have additional costs. Tuition fees are reviewed annually.

Non-tuition fees

Non-tuition fees paid to the University may include the student services and amenities fee, books and equipment, health insurance, administration, accommodation, and assistance to apply for or hold a student visa.

Student Services and Amenities Fee (SSAF)

The SSAF is charged each study period for the provision of non-academic services. In 2020 the annual SSAF was capped at $308. my.uq.edu.au/information-and-services/manage-my-program/fees-payments-and-refunds/student-services-and-amenities-fee

Scholarships

The University of Queensland offers competitive scholarships to help high-achieving students fund their tertiary education. For more information, see pages 108-109.

Health insurance

If you will be coming to Australia on a student visa, you will need to purchase and maintain Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) as one of the conditions of your visa. This is an insurance policy that covers you for basic medical and hospital care and is required from the day you arrive in Australia until you leave. UQ's preferred OSHC provider is Allianz Global Assistance. UQ can organise your OSHC with Allianz when you accept your UQ offer and pay your tuition fee deposit. Alternatively, you can obtain your own OSHC from a government-approved OSHC provider.

Financial aid

We can help students from North America, as well as some countries in Europe and Latin America, apply for student loan programs that are offered in their home countries. These loans can help you cover a portion of your educational expenses while studying full-time at UQ.

Refunds

Refunds are only made to international students in certain circumstances and in accordance with our Student Fees policy and Student Refund procedures.

UQ HDR scholarship recipient Gurion Ang is an entomologist and completed his PhD at UQ's School of Biological Sciences. He came from Singapore to take part in a Summer Research Program and stayed to complete his Bachelor of Science (Honours) and PhD. He is currently a teaching and engagement focussed academic with the UQ Faculty of Science.

Scholarships

You may be eligible for a scholarship to study at UQ. The Australian Government provides international students with a range of scholarship options, and the University also offers competitive scholarships to help high achieving students fund their tertiary education. scholarships.uq.edu.au

UQ HDR scholarships

UQ provides almost A$40 million in scholarship funding support each year for living and tuition expenses of Higher Degree by Research (HDR) candidates.

UQ Graduate School Scholarship (UQGSS)

The UQ Graduate School Scholarship (UQGSS) is awarded from Research Training Program (Australian Government) funding and UQ funding via a competitive scholarship round twice per year. The UQGSS provides a living allowance and a tuition fee offset. For international applicants who will study in Australia on a student visa, the UQGSS also includes an allowance for single overseas student health cover.

Other scholarships for HDR candidates

In addition to the UQGSS, a wide range of scholarships for HDR candidates is available. These can be found on UQ's Scholarships website. New opportunities are frequently added, so prospective HDR candidates are advised to check the website regularly.

Australian Government scholarships

Australia Awards

Australia Awards are prestigious international scholarships and fellowships funded by the Australian Government. They are administered by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade and offer the next generation of global leaders an opportunity to undertake study, research and professional development in Australia. The opportunities provided by Australia Awards Scholarships help participants develop the skills and knowledge to drive change and contribute to the development outcomes of their country. Benefits of the scholarship include payment of an establishment allowance, full tuition fees, return airfares, living allowance and Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC). UQ has hosted Australian Awards-sponsored students for more than 50 years.

australiaawards.gov.au

Destination Australia

The Department of Education awards $15,000 scholarships for programs undertaken at UQ Gatton campus.

Students must commence the degree in 2021 and study full-time in a course that can be fully delivered at the Gatton campus. Students must also maintain ongoing residency in the regional area for the duration of each study period, and maintain a student visa for the duration of the scholarship.

The scholarship is renewable for each year of the program, and may be available for bachelor's, bachelor's (honours), master's or doctorate degrees.

Australian Centre for International Agricultural Research (ACIAR) Fellowships

ACIAR is Australia's specialist international agricultural research for development agency. Building capacity of individuals and agricultural research institutes in partner countries is one of ACIAR's key priorities.

ACIAR administers two fellowships under the Australia Awards: the John Allwright Fellowship and the John Dillon Fellowship.

The John Allwright Fellowship provides the opportunity for partner country scientists involved in ACIAR-supported collaborative research projects to obtain postgraduate qualifications at Australian tertiary institutions. The John Dillon Fellowship provides career and leadership development opportunities for outstanding agricultural scientists or economists from ACIAR partner countries who are involved in a current or recently completed ACIAR project.

Up to ten fellowships are offered annually. aciarc.gov.au

Other scholarship opportunities

Many international students at UQ are funded by scholarships from their home governments or other funding bodies. For more information on these scholarships, you should contact the Ministry of Education or another appropriate government agency in your home country. Some multinational aid organisations and other large corporations also provide scholarship funding for international students. If you wish to apply for assistance, contact the organisation directly.

UQ partners

UQ has links worldwide and is also a proud member of the prestigious Group of Eight and Universitas 21 networks.

UQ's partnership network

UQ has a strategic partnership network across more than 50 international locations, which includes leading organisations and institutions across higher education, research, industry, government, sponsorship and philanthropy.

As a key component of UQ's broader Global Strategy, UQ seeks to ensure a cohesive and coordinated approach to collaboration with international partners. UQ partners for global impact by building meaningful relationships worldwide and leveraging our strategic global presence. UQ's global connectedness has a multitude of beneficiaries, leading to research outcomes, products and services that have real impacts on people around the world.

Through our partnerships, UQ students can study in more than 40 international locations to develop and broaden their perspectives, build international networks and prepare for global careers. Almost a quarter of UQ's undergraduate students engage in an international experience of some kind during their studies.

UQ is also a member of a number of global networks that enhance the opportunities for collaboration for our staff and students, including: Universitas 21, a select international network of comprehensive, research-intensive universities; edX, the world's leading consortium of Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs); and the McDonnell International Scholars Academy, a select group of research universities that aims to develop future leaders and promote global awareness and social responsibility.

UQ also has a number of arrangements with international institutions to facilitate the progression of students from those institutions to UQ through credit transfer.

UQ terminology

Alumni

All UQ graduates are considered UQ alumni.

Assessment

Assessment is completed as part of your course. It can come in the form of assignments, examinations, oral reports, debates, projects, research summaries and laboratory practical reports.

Bachelor's degree

A qualification awarded for the first level of study undertaken at university, typically requiring three to five years of study.

Blue card

An identification card issued under the Commission for Children and Young People and Child Guardian Act 2000 that you need in order to work with children in Queensland, whether as a paid employee or volunteer. You can apply for one through the UQ School administering your program. Blue card applicants undergo a complete national criminal history check.

Campus

The location where a program is delivered. Some programs are taught at locations other than UQ St Lucia or at more than one campus.

Census date

The last date to cancel enrolment in a course without incurring financial liability. Census dates are 31 March for Semester 1, 31 August for Semester 2 and 18 December for Summer Semester (although this may change). Intensive study periods have individual census dates that change each year according to the start date of the study period.

Compulsory courses

Courses that must be studied to complete the requirements of a program.

Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE)

A CoE is issued when you accept a place at the University and pay your deposit and Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC), if applicable, and you need to apply for a student visa. A CoE will only be issued for a quota program if there is still a place available at the time you accept and pay your deposit / OSHC.

Course

A discrete component of study within a program for which a grade is given.

Course profile

A course profile gives you key information about a course, including the course aims and learning objectives, required textbooks, learning activities, assessment information and due dates, and other important information.

Coursework program

A program where the assessable content by research represents less than two-thirds of the total assessable content for the program. Bachelor's degrees, associate degrees and postgraduate coursework programs are all categorised as coursework programs.

Commencement

Semester 1 in Australia generally begins in late February, and Semester 2 in late July, but some programs may start earlier. Check each program for details.

Credit

1. Students receive credit towards a degree when they pass a course that is part of the program requirements.
2. Students changing programs within UQ or from another university may apply for credit (a value assigned for study completed in one program) towards the new program. See Credit transfer.

Credit transfer (or transfer credit)

Credit transfer may be granted when students change from one program to another, if the rules of the new program allow. Check with the administering faculty.

CRICOS code

The Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS) code indicates a registered program offered to international students studying in Australia on a student visa.

Domestic student

A student who is an Australian citizen or Australian permanent resident, or a New Zealand citizen.

Dual program

Two UQ degree programs undertaken at the same time, under a single set of program rules. The duration of a dual degree is shorter than taking each degree one after the other.

Duration

The length of time taken to complete a program, expressed in terms of a standard full-time study load.

Elective

A course that you may choose from a set of options. Some UQ programs allow elective courses to be taken from outside the main focus of the program or from other UQ programs.

Entry score

The entry requirement for a particular undergraduate program from a specific high school qualification.

External student

External students study online and do not attend any on-campus classes, although attendance at residential schools may be required in some programs. Material is dispatched by mail or via the web. International students can only study external programs offshore.

Faculty

The major organisational units within UQ, with responsibility for academic programs. Faculties may have a number of sub-faculty academic units called 'schools'. There are six faculties: Business, Economics and Law; Engineering, Architecture and Information Technology; Health and Behavioural Sciences; Humanities and Social Sciences; Medicine; and Science.

Field of study

A field of study is a prescribed combination of courses in a postgraduate coursework program having a value of at least eight units or in a one-year bachelor's (honours) program having a value of 16 units

Full-time (F/T)

75 per cent or more (six units) of the standard full-time study load (eight units) per semester for most programs. As an international student in Australia, you must complete your program within the specified duration. To do this, you would need to enrol in eight units per semester.

Grade point average (GPA)

A statistic calculated on grades received and the number of units completed, indicating your performance in your studies.

Higher degree by research (HDR)

A postgraduate program where the assessable content by research represents more than two-thirds of the total assessable content. At UQ, HDR programs include the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD), Master of Philosophy (MPhil) and professional doctorates.

Honours

At UQ, honours may be awarded as an additional one-year of study following completion of a bachelor's degree or as a four-year bachelor's (honours) degree. Some undergraduate programs allow eligible students to transfer to a bachelor's (honours) degree at a defined point in the bachelor's degree.

IELTS

International English Language Testing System.

Immunisation

For some Health, Behavioural Sciences and Medicine programs, you must provide proof of immunisation against certain diseases, including Hepatitis B. See habs.uq.edu.au/placement-ready/immunisations.

Intensive

A flexible delivery study mode where you attend on campus for short periods only (typically 1-2 weeks).

Internal student

A student who attends classes (lectures, tutorials and practicals) on-campus during semester.

International applicant / student

An 'international' applicant or student is not an Australian citizen or Australian permanent resident, nor a New Zealand citizen, and is intending to enrol (applicant) / is enrolled (student) with a higher education provider in Australia.

Orientation (O-Week)

A compulsory program of activities and information sessions to introduce new students to the University and to assist the transition to tertiary study.

Part-time (P/T)

Part-time study is less than 75 per cent of the standard full-time study load (i.e. less than six units per semester for most programs).

Placement

Also called work placement, internship, industry study, clinical practice, practicum, fieldwork, clinical placement, practical work, teaching practice or industry experience. This is a period of practical, work-related experience designed to enable you to practise professional skills in a real-life setting, usually at an organisation external to the University.

Postgraduate coursework programs

Postgraduate coursework programs involve at least two-thirds of coursework. Study options include a graduate certificate, graduate diploma, coursework master's, and professional doctorate.

Prerequisites

Prerequisites are minimum entry requirements for admission to a program. They are intended to ensure that everyone entering a program has studied and achieved an appropriate level of knowledge in subject areas necessary to undertake the program successfully. Applicants who satisfy the prerequisite requirements are then eligible to compete for a place on the basis of the selection rank allocated to their qualifications.

Program

A sequence of study leading to the award of a qualification such as a degree, diploma, certificate or higher degree by research.

Quota program

Some programs have limited places available. The quota is the number of places that are available. For international students, the issuing of a Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) for a quota program confirms that you have a place in that program.

School

At UQ, a school is a sub-division of a faculty - in other words, a faculty is a collection of schools. The school that teaches a course is listed on each course's electronic course profile (ECP) as the 'Coordinating Unit'.

Semester

The University teaching year is divided into three semesters: Semester 1, Semester 2 and Summer Semester. Most programs only require you to be enrolled in Semesters 1 and 2 each year.

Specialisation

A specialisation is at least 32 units of a prescribed combination of courses with a particular disciplinary focus, within an undergraduate program.

Study areas

Discipline-focused sets of courses that can be studied within a degree program and may include majors, minors and specialisations.

Teaching methods

At UQ we use a range of teaching methods, including lectures, tutorials, laboratory practicals, fieldwork, group discussions, and online modules and workshops. You will be required to complete assignments and examinations, and undertake independent study. Debate in classrooms is strongly encouraged.

Teaching spaces

Ranging from large, tiered lecture theatres to small tutorial rooms and specialised laboratories, we offer flexible spaces for group work, teaching and printing. All UQ lecture theatres and most tutorial rooms have Echo 360 installed so that teaching sessions can be recorded and accessed online.

Tertiary pathway

If you are not offered a place in your preferred program, you can accept an offer in a program with lower entry requirements, improve your entry score after completing your first year of full-time study, and then apply to change into your preferred program.

Units

Units (#) represent the value of individual courses that contribute to the total unit requirement of an academic program. Most courses at UQ are worth two units and a standard study load is eight units per semester.
