

Institut International de l'Image et du Son - 3iS

PROFILE

- The Institut International de l'Image et du Son (3iS, international institute of image and sound) is the largest audiovisual education institution in France and Europe, with 12,000m² of facilities, high-performance equipment and a placement rate of 80- 90% depending on specialization.
- Different programs (film and audiovisual, Sound, Animation/Videogame, journalism, Design and technical theatre arts) covering many different specialties, 3iS graduates are trained to assume operational responsibilities.
- 3iS teaching methods combine culture and technique, knowledge and practice, multi-discipline and specialization.
- 3iS' Degree programs require 3 years of study, in addition to an optional year-long introductory program offered in-house to prepare students for the programs in film/audiovisual and Sound.
- 3iS is offering a preparatory year in French as a Foreign Language for international students. After a year, international students are able to integrate the regular program.
- Students are admitted to the first year by entrance examination. Applicants must hold at least a French baccalauréat or equivalent secondary-school credential.
- The first part of all degree programs consists of a comprehensive core curriculum. Students then choose a professional specialty.
- Instruction centers on professional practices and mastery of real-world challenges, taught through repeated exposure to professional situations (workshops, productions, intensive internships).
- 3iS also offers summer programs taught in English.

Main programmes of study

3iS offers four programs:

- Film and audiovisual and Sound programs: certified by the State of levels II D.E.S.T.I.S. degree (Post-graduate degree in Image and Sound Techniques)
- Animation/Video Games: Master 3iS (Bac+5): 2D - 3D
- Design d'Espace/Scénographie/Motion Design/Design Graphique : Bachelor 3iS(Bac+3)
- Technical theatre arts: certified by the State of levels III title: Lighting management, Sound management, and General management
- Master in Creative Industry Management. Double degree 3iS/EDC

Strengths

- 3iS programs are recognized by the French government (Ministry of Labor, Employment, and Professional Training) and entered in the RNCP (national registry of occupational certifications).
- The quality of 3iS programs and their fit with the labor market are demonstrated by the very high job placement rate of graduates.
- 3iS students work under technical conditions similar to those of professionals, having access to an exceptional array of equipment that is continuously updated.
- 3iS enjoys the full confidence of the profession (instruction by practicing professionals, more than 1,500 corporate partners, credit-bearing internships, many academic partnerships).
- The international dimension is an essential part of the school: student admissions from around the world, language instruction (French and English), opportunities for international mobility (internships, further study),
