ISA CAMPOS, BRAZIL

Diploma – Broadcast Television/Videography

I wanted to have an international study experience and when I was searching for a country to go to, Canada seemed like the perfect option. The weather is completely different from what I was used to in Brazil, the outdoors are very scenic and I also have the opportunity to improve my English skills. Toronto being a multicultural city would give me the perfect opportunity to meet new people from all over the world.

I was looking for a program that could give me experience in “behind-the-scenes” work in broadcasting, and Humber has a program in broadcast television and videography, which is everything that I wanted. My program has a work placement component and is really hands on and, in my opinion, that is the best way to learn. Through practical work, I have a better understanding about the day-to-day work in the industry. The projects that we have in the program have helped me to see that I am capable of doing anything in my field and I am learning to believe in myself. The courses gave me the skills to get the job done and now I am more confident in my capabilities. In the future, I would like to open my own production company along with some friends that I made in college.

Studying in another country can be challenging sometimes but I love that. I have made good friends from all over the world, including people from Canada, China, India and Turkey. My advice to other students considering coming to Humber would be to choose a program in the field that you are passionate about. Study hard not only to do well in your program but also to equip yourself for your future. Enjoy the experience to the fullest!

PROGRAMS AND ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

APPLIED TECHNOLOGY

The 2 reasons why I decided to study at Humber were firstly because the professors take a real interest in helping the students and secondly because the programs with work placements are practical and will help me in my career. I think the best part of the classroom experience is that from the start of your program you are working in the mechanical engineering labs learning through a hands-on approach. Learning how to work with raw materials and precisely measure dimensions are an asset for my future career in the industry.

ARTS AND PERFORMANCE

The professors, who are great musicians themselves, actually spend time making sure you understand and they challenge your current level in music. The classroom experience at Humber helps feed my desire to be an honest Saxophone player. There is always so much happening in the music department with people constantly working on creative projects.

I chose this program based on my previous interactions with the professors and program coordinator who were always ready to help. I learned a lot about the fashion industry from my professors' first-hand experience. They make the classes fun, light and interactive. The depth of knowledge that my professors brought is one of the most incredible aspects of the classroom experience. An important lesson that I learned from my faculty was to always make connections with the people in the field. What I enjoyed most about studying biotechnology at Humber was being given the opportunity to spend eight hours per week in a lab environment, working with my colleagues and professors in different experiments. Before starting my graduate certificate in project management at Humber, I had to complete the English for Academic Purpose (EAP) program. I started with level 7 after taking a placement test, and I am now in level 8. Taking EAP has helped me to prepare not just for my program, but also for my career. I hope to apply for a management position in a construction company in Toronto after I graduate.

MEDIA STUDIES AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Humber's curriculum is designed for students to have work experience, professionalism and respect for the industry by the time they graduate. Humber also has the resources needed to allow students to reach those goals, such as the newsroom, radio booth and labs, and the dedicated faculty who are up-to-date in the industry. During my time in the journalism program, I explored different sectors of the industry, from newspaper and magazine to radio and TV and even blogging and social media.

SANNY NGUYEN, VIETNAM

Bachelor of Commerce – Healthcare Management

The best part of my degree at Humber has been the classroom experience. Our faculty invite guest speakers who are working in the industry to share their experiences and answer any questions that students might have. The professors, who are working in the industry themselves, share their passion and experiences with us, which helps us get a better glimpse of the healthcare management industry. Even though the students have varied career goals, the program is designed to meet the industry's requirements.

MACKENZIE WILSON, CANADA
Diploma – Police Foundations

Instead of being in a classroom and working on a research paper or studying textbooks, I wanted first-hand experience of what it is like to learn in the real world. I was one of the 12 Humber students selected from the second-year Police Foundations program to study abroad in China. When I came back from China, I was able to share my story and teach my friends and family about the culture, break down stigmas and start important discussions.

ACADEMIC PATHWAYS

Whether you want to transfer to Humber, within Humber or out of Humber, we can help you along the way. Choose the best path to accomplish your goals.

TRANSFER IN

If you have completed a similar course at another recognized postsecondary institution, you may be eligible to receive transfer credits toward your Humber program.

TRANSFER WITHIN

Humber supports continuous learning and we have many pathways between credentials to help you find the right program fit. We offer Foundation and General Arts and Science programs for students who want to improve their grades or explore study options before starting their postsecondary program.

Students who enroll in our diploma programs can transfer into our degree programs and receive partial credit for their previous studies. Please note that a reduction in the length of a study program could influence the length of a student's postgraduate work permit.

TRANSFER OUT

Humber graduates can continue their study pathways at other educational institutions internationally or in Canada. Humber partners with many postsecondary institutions throughout Ontario, across Canada and abroad, and enables students and graduates to use their Humber credential to gain admission or advanced standing in another program of study.

RICKMEET KAUR, INDIA

Advanced Diploma - Business Administration
 - Accounting

Living in Canada has made me more independent and has also helped me build a sense of responsibility. Canada offered me a variety of different and meaningful experiences to help me learn and grow, both academically and personally.

Being an accounting student, it is very important to know how the industry works. The professors in the program made learning easy by not focusing solely on the textbooks, but also introducing real-life examples.

Co-op is a very important part of my program as it gave me the opportunity to test my skills and knowledge outside the classroom environment. Co-op has helped me determine what my focus will be as I move forward in my accounting career.

The best advice I can give other international students who are considering studying at Humber is that it is important to focus on your studies and to surround yourself with people that motivate you and help you grow.
