DUBAI • MUMBAI • SINGAPORE • SYDNEY

Businesses today are adaptable, innovative, artistic, responsible, aware, competent, diverse, fast-paced, curious, and more importantly, global.

Your undergraduate experience at S P Jain is so much more than plain business tools and concepts. Your journey with us is carefully built to include lessons and experiences that reflect today's increasingly global world. Through review of real-world contexts and case studies, solving problems creatively through live simulations and developing projects from beginning to end, living and studying in 3 different countries, working collaboratively with peers and mentors from 30 different countries, adapting and applying new skills while integrating them into existing conceptual frameworks – you become part of a global ecosystem that encourages you to contribute, lead and succeed.

Challenge yourself. Explore the world outside of what you call home. Learn to speak a new language. Intern with people of cultures you know very little about. Present your business plan to business leaders from the industry. Adapt to living with a roommate with different food habits. Contribute your skills to rehabilitating a village school in China. Learn the cultural practices of the global cities you will live in. Discuss current political topics with policy makers and leaders.

Open yourself to the various opportunities that will come your way when you find yourself a part of S P Jain's global classroom.

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

At S P Jain School of Global Management, we strive to produce future leaders who are innovative, flexible and extremely competent in using business tools and concepts whilst drawing on their understanding of the real world and global awareness.

All of these ideas are embodied in our school, our programs and our ethos:

- We pride ourselves on offering a first class educational experience, benefitting from the talents of our extremely qualified global faculty, whilst continuing to be pioneers at the forefront of business education, innovation and technology.
- We believe very strongly in interactive and engaged learning methodologies, taking part in simulations and engaging with business practitioners, evidence-based practices and informed by research, direct our learning and teaching.
- We believe that one has to experience global cultures. We are the first school in the world to deliver a tri-city learning model across Dubai, Mumbai, Singapore and Sydney (just one of our many "firsts"). This gives our students direct experience of at least three different cultural and business contexts.
- We attract and recruit high performing faculty and students from around the world. One of our graduates says that she "recommends this program to aspiring students for the diverse faculty resource it provides", which she feels is truly exceptional. There are professors with 20 years of experience with Wall Street, professors from the University of Cambridge and experts in operations management and derivatives, to name only a few. Being taught by some of the most highly rated professors in the Asia-Pacific region was an experience in itself for her. The learning journey she feels has been beyond description and the entire experience has enabled her entire class to become global citizens. Most faculty members have extensive consultancy experience, were CEOs of their own companies and held senior administration roles in universities. These are not the typical university academics who profess their subject expertise!
- Our programs enable our students to gain a competitive edge in their careers.

At S P Jain, we offer you extraordinary opportunities to interact with global business leaders and thinkers, and make deep and lasting connections with your peers from around the world. Our goal is to challenge, disrupt, inspire and empower you to be the best you can be, and to achieve whatever you aspire to achieve. If all of this resonates with you, if you are passionate about a successful career in business, please visit us. We look forward to welcoming you at one of our vibrant campuses.
