WELCOME HOME

A great place to live. A great place to study.

Safe, friendly and affordable, Liverpool takes pride of place as one of the best places to study in Europe. Live in “one of the coolest places in the UK”*, and find out why this European Capital of Culture is one of the top ten cities to visit in the world. With well-established international communities and a fascinating history, Liverpool stands apart from the rest of the British Isles, bursting at the seams with venues, festivals and cultural events. It's all yours for the taking.

*The Times of London

We can't wait to welcome you home.

WHY LIVERPOOL IS THE PLACE TO BE

We may be biased, but you don't have to take our word for it:

Voted the kindest city
in the UK
(Travelodge Kindness Survey 2018)

In 2018, we celebrated the 10th anniversary of being named as European
Capital of Culture

Liverpool's waterfront holds UNESCO
World Heritage Site
status, alongside the Great Wall of China and the Pyramids of Giza in Egypt

Awarded purple flag accreditation, which means Liverpool is a safe place to enjoy a night out

IN YOUR LIVERPOOL HOME

..... We're a compact, easy-to-navigate city, handily broken down into seven neighbourhoods, each based on the original seven streets we were founded upon, and each with their own distinct character. Get to know the main landmarks and cool places to go in each area, and
..... you're halfway to acting like a local.

Metropolitan Cathedral

Liverpool Anglican Cathedral

William Brown Street

Chinatown

City Centre

Liverpool city centre is like something out of a movie (most of the time because it is), with the finest buildings being found on William Brown Street. Elsewhere the city is a lively area with shops aplenty.

Ropewalks

Named to recognise the area's past as a centre for rope manufacture, the cobbled streets between Bold Street and Duke Street are home to Liverpool's independently-minded retail and entertainment quarter. Ropewalks is your perfect introduction to nightlife, Liverpool-style.

Georgian Quarter

One of the prettiest parts of town, Liverpool's Georgian Quarter is home to the stunning Liverpool Cathedral, the hub of Hope Street, Paul McCartney's Liverpool Institute of Performing Arts (LIPA) and plenty of pubs (some formerly frequented by John Lennon himself).

Baltic Triangle

This self-aware hip neighbourhood is Liverpool's take on New York City's Meatpacking District. The warehouses are home to an increasing roll call of bars, bistros, artist studios and al-fresco knees-ups.

Commercial District

Liverpool's business district is home to an American-inspired grid of streets filled with ornate banking halls, lofty skyscrapers and eye-catching late 19th century office buildings.

Knowledge Quarter

They call the top end of town the Knowledge Quarter and there's a simple reason for this; it is where smart folk like you will spend much of your time. Liverpool is home to the original red brick university, but the campuses and walkways that link LJMU and University of Liverpool buildings mix Victorian gothic, 60s modernism and everything in between.

WATERFRONT

Full of life and spectacularly beautiful, Liverpool's Pier Head is world class, with the fascinating Museum of Liverpool, and the Three Graces – Royal Liver Building, The Cunard Building and the Port of Liverpool Building (the three white-stone buildings which stand out from the skyline).

Leaf, Bold Street

FOOD AND DRINK IN OUR CITY

You are what you eat and Liverpool has it all. From specialist shops selling halal and kosher foods, to the oldest Chinatown in Europe, with shops catering for all tastes. There are cool independent cafés, well-stocked supermarkets, reasonably priced restaurants and excellent eateries to suit every taste and budget. The city also has a huge choice of pubs, nightclubs, alcohol-free bars and coffee shops where you can enjoy great conversation, music and much, much more.

LIV Organic Food Market

At the bottom of Bold Street you'll find a supermarket and café where you can find organic food and drink. There's a place to dine on fresh pasta or sit with a coffee and a cake, right in the heart of Liverpool's food scene.

The Italian Club

A family run, laid-back classic Italian restaurant, serving family favourites from lunch right through until late-night supper. There is something for everyone on the menu, including vegans, and plenty of dessert options for you to choose from.

Mowgli

Ask any Liverpool local where to go for Indian food and most likely this will be their top recommendation. Their tiffin-style dishes offer an authentic taste of India for vegetarians, vegans and meat eaters alike.

Leaf

Leaf is a Liverpool landmark, originating as a tearoom with every flavour of tea you could possibly think of, and now operating as a brunch, lunch, dinner and drinks spot. Leaf is a place for everybody to enjoy, whether it be popping in for vegan brunch, taking part in Leaf's pudding club, or going to a gig.

The Brink

Liverpool's non-alcoholic bar The Brink, Parr Street, offers comfort food classics such as fish and chips, full English breakfasts and brilliant burgers. All for a purse friendly price, too, making it a popular student haunt.

KO Grill

Another authentic Indian and Pakistani restaurant, located on the lower end of Bold Street. Stock up on big and small plates, each one delicious, and still come home with change, and leftovers.

Almost Famous

If you like burgers, you're going to love Almost Famous. With sky-high burgers, lots of cheese and Liverpool specialities, including the city's favourite salt and pepper chips.

Maggie Mays

Home to what is widely known as the best bowl of scouse in Liverpool, Maggie Mays, Bold Street, is a must. There's no fancy dishes in this place, it's all about good, fresh food, plain and simple.

Baltic Market

The Baltic Market, located inside Cains Brewery Village, is just a short walk away from Liverpool ONE and Chinatown. Find foods from around the world in their street food hall, alongside food trends like bubble cone ice cream - perfect for Instagram.

The Caledonia

You could be forgiven for not thinking a classic British pub such as The Caledonia, would be a vegan hotspot, but this pub actually has an entirely vegan menu. Try vegan versions of burgers, hot dogs and chicken wings in the settings of a beautiful pub with great music.

MUSIC

As the “world capital of pop”, it will come as no surprise that a great music scene always exists in Liverpool. No matter what you are into, there will always be lots of gigs and festivals for you to enjoy. Our annual festivals include Sound City, Brazilica and Liverpool International Music Festival just to name a few. You can listen to live music in a host of venues and pop-up spaces in town, too, from basement clubs and dive bars to the world-class Echo Arena.

Every night of the week, every week of the year, there's a gig to go to in Liverpool. Discover the city's up-and-coming bands in venues such as Leaf and Zanzibar for a couple of pounds, or find your favourite acts in Liverpool's O2 Academy, the Liverpool Guild of Students or The Olympia. Each venue caters for every taste, whether you like to listen to hip-hop, jazz or rock'n'roll.

Vintage chic

SHOPPING

We're all shopping on a budget, but no matter if yours is large or small, you'll find what you are looking for in Liverpool, and often with a discount, too. Most high street stores offer student discount. Liverpool ONE holds regular student events, plus, get money off at the city's independents with an 'Independent Liverpool' membership card. From the high street stores in Liverpool ONE and on Church Street, and designer departments in Liverpool ONE, the MetQuarter and Cavern Walks, to the independent boutiques on Bold Street, Liverpool is the place to go shopping.

INDEPENDENT STORES

Red Brick Hangar

Within the Cains Brewery Village in the Baltic Triangle, you will find an array of small businesses offering everything from quirky prints and organic snacks to vintage clothing. Red Brick Hangar is surrounded by cool places to eat and drink, so head over for a day out and come back with some goods you won't find anywhere else.

Lost Art

Located upstairs from The Merchant, Slater Street, is Lost Art, one of the coolest skate shops in Europe. Get everything from a new board to the shop's own clothing line and look like a true Liverpool skater.

Liverpool ONE

Bold Street

Utility

With locations on Bold Street and in Liverpool ONE, Utility is the city's one-stop-shop for all things cute and quirky. Find funny greetings cards, great coffee table books and gifts you'll want to keep for yourself in these small stores.

Probe Records

Probe Records is another Liverpool institution, found on School Lane, next to the Bluecoat. The store itself is tiny, but always bursting with vinyl enthusiasts.

Resurrection

On Bold Street you will find Resurrection, a place for vintage clothes, independent clothing brands, and even a barbers and café. No matter who you are or what you're into, Resurrection will surely become one of your most frequented spots in Liverpool.

69a

You can find just about anything in 69a, Renshaw Street. From eclectic bric-a-brac to old books and vintage clothes, it's a great place to spend a rainy afternoon.

MARKETS

LACES OUT FESTIVAL

Laces Out Festival is the biggest event in the calendar for the sneaker heads of Liverpool. Find cool new brands and rare pairs from your favourites in a venue filled with fellow shoe lovers. Keep checking their website to see when the event is next in town.

ARTS MARKETS

Twice a year, Open Culture host arts markets in the stunning Liverpool Cathedral. Here, you'll find handmade accessories, prints and knock-knacks from the city's small businesses, all worth a look. There's also treasures to be found in the pop-up markets in St. Luke's Church which us locals refer to as "the bombed out church" so don't miss out.

POP-UP AT THE PALM HOUSE

Such beautiful handmade items deserve an equally beautiful venue, which is why we love Pop-Up at the Palm House markets, held in Sefton Park's Palm House several times a year. Entry is free and it's a great excuse to venture outside of the city centre, too.

FAITH IN OUR CITY

We are a multi-racial and multi-cultural city supporting a diverse range of religions and communities. The two cathedrals – Anglican and Catholic – may dominate the skyline but Greek orthodox, Unitarian and numerous European churches can be found across Liverpool.

The mosque at 8 Brougham Terrace was the first to be established in England and the Al Rahma mosque near the city centre can hold up to 1,000 people. Liverpool has a thriving Jewish community too, with numerous synagogues, including the Princes Road Synagogue, one of the finest buildings in the city.

Liverpool has well established Nigerian and Somalian communities. Plus there's a thriving Sikh community, a Hindu temple on Edge Lane and smaller, but no less active, Buddhist communities.

I would describe Liverpool as a place with a lot of culture - it's an amazing place to stay and study.

ART AND CULTURE

With more museums and galleries than any other city outside of London, there is a lot of art and culture to experience in Liverpool, and not just our own culture, either. The city celebrates the diversity of its artistic community every year, with Arabic Arts Fest, Liverpool Irish Festival, Africa Oyé and Brazilica, our very own carnival.

Brazilica

Everyman Theatre

Playhouse Theatre

Liverpool Philharmonic

THEATRES

Not only is Liverpool known for its music, but we love a good show, too. Catch everything from independent plays to Broadway shows at the Unity Theatre, Playhouse Theatre, Liverpool Empire, Royal Court, Everyman, Epstein Theatre, LIPA and Capstone Theatre. Of course you can't forget about the Liverpool Philharmonic Hall, either, where you'll find stand-up comedy and a live orchestra alongside your favourite films, dance performances and more.

FESTIVALS

Arabic Arts Festival

For the past 20 years, Arabic Arts Festival has showcased both traditional and more modern Arabic arts to the city of Liverpool. Expect music of every genre and a festival you'll never forget.

Indian Arts Festival

Milapfest run an Indian arts festival comprising of traditional music and dance performances throughout Liverpool each spring and summer. Catch performances from Grammy award nominated musicians at the Capstone Theatre and other venues across the city.

Liverpool Comedy Festival

Here in Liverpool, we're proud to be known for our great sense of humour. Each year at the Liverpool Comedy Festival, you can laugh along with comedians both big and small at comedy venues across the city, from tiny comedy clubs to the huge Liverpool Echo Arena.

Brazilica

Every summer, Liverpool hosts its very own carnival, Brazilica. The festival sees feather-adorned dancers and drummers parade around the city's streets, bringing a smile to everyone who passes by. Each year Brazilica gets bigger and better, so get ready for a party!

Liverpool Biennial

Liverpool Biennial is one of Europe's best-attended arts festivals, and encompasses venues and artists across the city. Many events are free and open to the public, too, so make sure to see what's on and find your new favourite piece.

Liverpool Biennial

Africa Oyé

Experience African music, dance and food at one of Liverpool's favourite festivals, Africa Oyé. Africa Oyé takes place in Sefton Park and welcomes every member of the community to learn about African culture and have a dance whilst you're at it.

Liverpool Irish Festival

Liverpool has always had a strong connection to Ireland, with pretty much every scouser claiming to have Irish blood, and that strong connection is celebrated each year at the Liverpool Irish Festival. During the festival, the city is overrun with events, performances and short film viewings discussing all things Irish. Of course it's also a great excuse for a pint of Guinness and an Irish jig, too.

Homotopia

Celebrating all things LGBTQ+, Homotopia is one of the biggest events of the year. See theatre performances, dance, art and debate as part of the annual event run by the Liverpool based arts and social justice organisation.

Light Night

Each summer, Light Night takes over every corner of Liverpool, with arts and craft workshops, street performances, art installations and late-night openings in the city's museums and galleries. Everyone in Liverpool loves Light Night, because there is something for everyone to enjoy. Many of the events are free and it is a great excuse to explore the city after dark.

Light Night

Liverpool Food and Drink Festival

Twice a year, Sefton Park becomes the place to be for Liverpool's food lovers, with street food trucks and pop-up stalls from the city's favourite restaurants. Try something new and fall in love with food from around the world at Liverpool Food and Drink Festival.

ART GALLERIES

Walker Art Gallery

Marvel at some of the city's most extravagant art collections, encompassing paintings, sculpture and fashion. Some of the work dates back centuries, but modern art lovers will find an impressive collection of pieces here, too. Reminiscent of New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Walker Art Gallery, William Brown Street is well worth a visit.

Walker Art Gallery

Open Eye Gallery

Just across from the Royal Albert Dock, in Mann Island, you will find the small Open Eye Gallery. This gallery displays work often a little closer to home, capturing the city's past, present and even future.

Tate Liverpool

Tate Liverpool takes pride of place in Liverpool's Royal Albert Dock. See works from the likes of Tracy Emin, Henri Matisse and Roy Lichtenstein, often for free. You can also sit and enjoy a cup of tea in the Tate Café, overlooking the docks. LJMU Student Opportunities team offer discounts for ticketed exhibitions.

Tate Gallery

FACT

FACT, Wood Street, is home to not only an art gallery, but a café, bar and independent cinema. This creative hub has hosted dystopian interactive works and performance art pieces by the likes of Shia LaBeouf and local artists alike, with free exhibitions for everybody.

Bluecoat

The Bluecoat is not only home to artists' studios, small boutiques and a restaurant, but exhibitions from artists across the world. Each exhibition is free and is always changing, so wander on through as you make your way around nearby Liverpool ONE.

The Royal Standard

Located in Cains Brewery Village, Baltic Triangle, the Royal Standard is a small gallery that attracts creatives from across the city and beyond. Take a look to see their latest exhibitions from up-and-coming artists.

I am involved with volunteering at the local FACT gallery and that's been really fun. Whatever experience you have, is what you put into it...

CARLA SANCHEZ, MSc MASS COMMUNICATIONS, FROM QUEENS, NY, USA

Museum of Liverpool

MUSEUMS

There are several museums across the city of Liverpool, documenting everything from the city's often troubled past, to the swinging sixties and the best of British music. The city centre alone hosts the Museum of Liverpool, Maritime Museum, International Slavery Museum, The Beatles Story, World Museum and British Music Experience. Most exhibitions are free for all, but see websites for further information.

GREEN SPACES AND BEACHES

We love our parks and green spaces and you will too once you start to explore the likes of Sefton Park, Calderstones Park and the beaches of Crosby and Formby. Crosby beach, just 15 minutes on the train from the City Centre, is home to Anthony Gormley's 'Another Place', where you'll find 100 iron men scattered across the sand. Yes, Liverpool has it all, even arty beaches.

Crosby Beach

SPORT IN THE CITY

Why not do a workout with a view, cycling, running or walking along the coast.

Casual runners have the picturesque routes of Crosby beach, Sefton Park and Riverside Drive, just to name a few. More advanced runners have a number of challenges to sign up to; two of the biggest are the Rock'n'Roll half marathon and the annual Santa dash. Oh yeah, if you see thousands of Santas running through the city, don't be alarmed, it's an annual thing.

If watersports are your thing, head to Crosby Lakeside Adventure Centre or Liverpool Watersports Centre in Queens Dock to get involved with rowing, surfing, windsailing and more.

Skaters have plenty of options in Liverpool, with the street art covered skate park on Jamaica Street, the glow in the dark ramp in Everton Park and the place all Liverpool skaters learned their tricks, Rampworx, just a bus ride away from the City Centre.

Of course, this wouldn't be a Liverpool city guide without football, would it? Liverpool is home to two world-class football teams, Liverpool FC and Everton FC. We're a city obsessed with the beautiful game, and you really can't escape it. Both clubs offer tours of their stadia and museums, and on match days the atmosphere in the city is electric. Both clubs have ladies football teams and some of our LJMU students are associated with these clubs in a coaching, playing or volunteering capacity.

Liverpool FC v Everton FC

PARTY PLACES

Did you know a night out in Liverpool was number three in Rough Guide's "50 things to do before you die"? Yep, we love a good time here in Liverpool, and no matter what you're into, whether you drink or not, you're bound to have the night of your life. There are pubs, bars and clubs scattered across the city centre, each area with a different vibe. Once you've found your favourite spot, many of the bars and clubs are very close to each other, and most are free entry, too, which means a night out shouldn't cost you too much. See some of our favourite party places...

PURPLE FLAG ACCREDITATION MEANS LIVERPOOL IS A SAFE PLACE TO ENJOY A NIGHT OUT, AND WHAT A NIGHT - WITH OVER 300 BARS, CLUBS AND RESTAURANTS TO CHOOSE FROM.

Kazimier Gardens, Seel Street

Liverpool's long-standing Kazimier Gardens can be easy to miss, tucked away in between large buildings on the quieter end of Seel Street, but once you're there you'll feel like you've discovered a hidden gem.

Salt Dog Slim's, Seel Street

Sing along to your favourite songs and scribble on the walls like you did in school. Salt Dogs is the place to go if you want to sing your heart out and grab a hot dog whilst you're at it. Just maybe don't do both at the same time.

Berry and Rye, Berry Street

Liverpool's very own speakeasy bar Berry and Rye can be hard to find, it is a secret bar after all, but is a hidden treasure for whisky lovers. Step out of the hustle and bustle of Ropewalks for a quiet drink in this cool location.

The Philharmonic, Hope Street

Possibly one of the most beautiful pubs in all of Britain. So beautiful in fact, the men's toilets are listed. Yeah, that's right, so good they can't be touched. Explore the snugs inside and wonder in the beauty of this classic pub, conveniently located right by the Mount Pleasant campus.

The Pilgrim, Pilgrim Street

The Pilgrim Pub has been a Liverpool student favourite for years. With live music and affordable ales, it's no wonder why it's such a popular venue, tucked away in the back streets near Liverpool Cathedral.

Independent Liverpool Quiz Nights

Independent Liverpool, the hub of Liverpool's independent food and drink scene, run cult quiz nights throughout the year, with themes on everything from Harry Potter to Friends. Get a team together and play to make your fandom proud at some of Liverpool's coolest venues, including the incredible St Luke's bombed out church.

Bongo's Bingo

This is bingo, but not as you know it. Go wild with your friends and play to win everything from fluffy unicorns to thousands of pounds in cash. There's dancing on the tables and confetti cannons galore.

STUDYING IN LIVERPOOL

Hopefully by now we've convinced you that Liverpool is a great place to live, but it's also a great place to work and study.

At LJMU, you will experience high quality teaching and ground-breaking research in a diverse and exciting city we love to call home. Of course there's plenty to eat, drink and do, but there's a lot of pretty places for a spot of alfresco studying. Liverpool is a city that lends itself to setting up camp wherever you fancy, whether that be in a cool coffee shop or on the historic Royal Albert Dock.

THINGS TO DO IN LIVERPOOL IN...

...SPRING

The minute the sun shines in Liverpool, we all get a bit excited at the prospect of summer returning, which means it's time to ditch the coats and get outside. Stroll around the palm house in Sefton Park, go for a lunchtime drink on the Royal Albert Dock or the Oh Me Oh My rooftop bar overlooking the Royal Liver Building, or head to the Liverpool food and drink festival. Take your pick of Liverpool's best street food snacks and bask in the spring sunshine.

...SUMMER

We love a festival in Liverpool, and each summer is jam-packed with music and art festivals to attend. There's Liverpool International Music Festival, with some of music's biggest names, Sound City for cool indie bands and LJMU students get major discounts on tickets. Besides festivals, there's also lots of classic summer activities to take part in, like hanging out on Crosby beach or the pop-up beach and funfair in Calderstones Park or chilling out with friends in the Baltic Triangle.

Whilst it might get cooler here in autumn, there's no excuse not to enjoy the beautiful outdoors. You can take a picturesque walk through Liverpool's many parks, including Calderstones Park where you'll find beautiful Japanese gardens. Or you could attend a Bonfire Night fireworks display along the waterfront or join in a Shiverpool tour, where creepy characters guide you around the city's most haunted locations.

Okay, Liverpool might not be Lapland, but every winter the city transforms into a winter wonderland, with the annual Liverpool ice festival in the city centre. Take a ride down the ice slide, skate around the ice rink or enjoy a hot chocolate in the cosy indoors. There is also Open Culture's Winter Arts Market, held in Liverpool Cathedral, where you can take shelter from the cold and browse the city's independent makers' handmade goods, from funky prints to greetings cards.

GETTING AROUND

For your one-stop travel education, head to Merseytravel's Travel Centres, located at Liverpool ONE bus station and Queens Square, or use their online journey planner. Ask about their term-time ticket for reduced fares on buses, trains and Mersey ferries for students if you'll be using these routes a lot during the week.

Public Transport

Liverpool is an easy city to navigate, plus it's well connected to the rest of the UK, with coach and train journeys to Manchester, Scotland, London and more, with the country's capital just over two hours away by train.

Train

Merseyrail operate a reliable network of underground and overland lines connecting most of the city and its suburbs together. Services are fast and frequent running from 5am to midnight.

Bus

Liverpool's well served bus routes shuttle from city to suburb all hours of the day, with some routes also running throughout the night. For travel within the city centre itself, you're best cycling, hailing a taxi, or our preferred option, walking.

Ferry

Should you have an hour spare, you can take a zig-zagging cruise up and down the Mersey, giving you a brilliant view of Liverpool's iconic waterfront and the chance to visit the Wirral with its breathtaking views of the Liverpool skyline from the other side of the water.

Taxi

Hail a black cab on the street or at the taxi ranks around the city, paying around £4 to shuttle from point to point in town. You can also book a private hire cab by phone, or download the Delta Taxis or Uber app to bring a taxi to you.

Bike

Around town you'll find over 100 racks of bright green City Bikes, offering pay-as-you-go cycling for no more than a few pounds. CityBike even offer LJMU students a hefty discount on the cost of an annual membership, making the scheme even more affordable.

YOUR LIVERPOOL BUCKET LIST

Liverpool is a city that never stops, with exciting events happening every day of the week, all year long. In fact, there can be so much you might struggle to tick them all off your list.
