CITY

CHANDIGARH

A million people; infinite possibilities

Located in the foothills of the Shivalik mountain ranges, Chandigarh is India's best planned city, with world renowned architecture and an unparalleled quality of life. The face of modern India, Chandigarh, is the manifestation of a dream that Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru envisaged and Le Corbusier executed.

Chandigarh was the first planned city in India post independence in 1947 and is known internationally for its architecture and urban design. The city has projects designed by architects such as Le Corbusier, Pierre Jeanneret, Jane Drew and Maxwell Fry. It is an urban showpiece - where plants and trees are as much a part of construction plans as the roads and buildings.

Chandigarh and its surrounding areas, namely Mohali and Panchkula are on their way to become the north Indian hubs for IT industry with major presence of companies such as Infosys Technologies, Dell, Tech Mahindra, Quark and Wipro. Chandigarh is also home to several regional offices for major multinational banks, retail establishments and real estate corporations.

With its world class infrastructure and highest per capita income Chandigarh is fast emerging as the entrepreneurship hub of the country. Chandigarh is also attracting the service industry, education, health, food processing and a host of other companies who view it as their regional center for all north Indian states namely Jammu & Kashmir, Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Punjab and Haryana.

- Chandigarh is a city that comes under eTimes' 15 best Asian spots. eTimes magazine has dubbed Chandigarh as 'the thinking man's city' amidst a continent of mindless growth
- In major surveys, Chandigarh beats Bangalore, Chennai & Hyderabad in the overall ranking of India's best cities for doing business.
- A confederation of Indian Industries (CII) commissioned study has ranked Chandigarh as the overall third best city for doing business among 35 cities with an urban population exceeding population of one million.

With easy connectivity to major cities across India by flight as well as rail Chandigarh serves as the gateway to northern India. There are also direct flights to connect with the rest of the country mainly Mumbai, Delhi and Bangalore. Indian rail network connects this city to various Indian cities chiefly Delhi, Shimla, Lucknow, Jaipur, Mumbai, Goa and Kerala.

PHARMACEUTICAL STUDIES

All our full time Bachelor's & Master's programs in Pharmacy comprise of the following core areas of study and additional support courses as under:

Pharmaceutical Chemistry and Analysis:

These are related scientific disciplines at the intersection of chemistry and pharmacy dealing with designing and developing pharmaceutical drugs and also with analytical topics that help develop basics about quality management of raw materials and finished pharmaceuticals.

Pharmaceutics:

It's the discipline of pharmacy which deals with all facets of the process of turning a new chemical entity into a medication able to be safely and effectively used by patients in the community. Apart from techniques to manufacture orthodox tablet, liquids and injectable formulations, the subject has evolved so much over the years that many Novel drug delivery Systems including dermal and mucosal patches, targeted delivery systems, antibody based delivery systems and other prolonged release minimal dosage formulations have become extremely common.

Pharmacology:

It's the study of how chemical substances interact with living systems. The field encompasses study of drug composition, drug properties, interactions, toxicology, & desirable effects that can be used in therapy of diseases. Other subjects, viz., Anatomy and Physiology and Pathophysiology are a prelude to pharmacology helping the students to develop the knowledge of intricate functioning and make up of human body and disease processes. Clinical Pharmacology details effective use of medicines in human body and management of various disease conditions.

Pharmacognosy:

It's the study of medicinal products in their crude, or unprepared form as directly obtained from plants, animals and other natural sources.. It includes the study of the physical, chemical, biochemical and biological properties of drugs, drug substances as well as the search for new drugs from natural sources which includes separation and identification of phytoconstituents from plants, conversion into semisynthetic derivatives and standardisation of multicomponent herbal formulations.

Additional elective integrated projects are a part of the curriculum to help students understand using knowledge from different subjects to carry out pharmaceutical research.

M. Pharm (Pharmaceutics) and M. Pharm (Pharmaceutical Technology)

The M. Pharm (Pharmaceutics) and M. Pharm (Pharmaceutical Technology) Programs lead to specialisation in formulation development, manufacturing technology, and process development areas, which are essential specialisations for manufacturing of traditional and novel drug delivery systems.

The first year involves theoretical and practical sessions in the following areas: dosage form design; advanced pharmaceutical methods of analysis; drug regulatory affairs; biopharmaceutics and pharmacokinetics; dosage form technology; advances in industrial pharmacy; and novel drug delivery systems. The second-year projects touch upon formulation development, stability studies, and process validation for traditional and novel drug delivery systems.

Some of the areas that have been taken-up by various batches since 2009 include hydrogels, microemulsions, microspheres, nanospheres, nanosuspensions, gastroretentive systems, solid-solid and solid-liquid dispersed systems, and development of modified excipients.

Continuous interaction with industries including Nectar life Sciences, Abbott Healthcare, Unichem, Jubilant Clinsys, Arbro Pharma, Dr Reddys Labs and other organisations for academic, conferences and placements is a special feature during the course.

M. Pharm (Pharmacology)

This Program leads to specialisation in pharmacology, which is an integral part of the drug discovery and drug design processes. These processes deal with the identification of lead molecules that could have potential therapeutic activity due to specific molecular and receptor affinity, and analogous structure to specific sites and proteins in the body.

In the first year the Program covers theoretical and practical sessions in the subjects molecular pharmacology; general pathophysiology; pharmacology and pharmacotherapeutics I and II; clinical research methodologies; advanced pharmaceutical methods of analysis; drug regulatory affairs; quality assurance and biostatistics; and other subjects.

In the second year of the Program students take-up several projects that are aimed at developing and exploring novel receptor targets, and mechanisms for drug action in the pathophysiological stages of the disease.

M. Pharm Pharmacy Practice (Clinical Research and Clinical Pharmacology Branch)

This Program offers a specialisation in the clinical drug development methodologies, its regulations, and control. Once the safety and efficacy of a novel chemical entity is established for a drug compound in preclinical animal studies, it is put through the process of clinical development. This is where the drug is studied for safety, efficacy and dosing in increasing numbers of human population setting through Phase I-IV clinical trials.

The branch offers exposure to subjects on principles of pharmacology and therapeutics; clinical research methodologies; clinical DRUG development; advanced pharmaceutical methods of analysis; drug regulatory affairs; recent advances in pharmacology; quality assurance and biostatistics; and other subjects.

The second-year clinical projects are done in hospital inpatient /outpatient settings either in association with a clinical research organisation or a pharmaceutical company.

Pharm. D.

● RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT

Mainly M. Pharms & PhDs are in great demand in the various areas of Pharmaceutical R&D. Areas where professionals are required are:

- New Drug Discovery Research (NDDR)

Discovering a new drug has assumed prime importance in the post-GATT era where a pharmaceutical company has to ensure that it is selling original research products.

- Process Development (P&D)

One of the important areas in bulk drugs industry is developing viable processes for the manufacture of drugs and intermediates for their commercial production.

- Formulation & Development (F&D)

The success of any pharma company lies in the quality of its products, i.e., its formulations & dosage forms and constant research is required to develop new products that are more patient compliant. Formulation development ensures this.

- Clinical Trials, Bioequivalence studies, Toxicological Studies

These are some of the areas of clinical research which are in high demand as they are involved in the systematic evaluation of potential drug substances prior to getting them approved by the authorities.

- PRODUCTION & MANUFACTURING
