LIFE-CHANGING RESEARCH

If you're passionate about tackling global challenges and collaborating with some of the brightest minds in your discipline, then Monash is the place where your ideas and actions can gain momentum.

Our researchers are driven by a singular goal: to change lives. It's why they're constantly questioning the answers, looking beyond traditional boundaries, and discovering ways of addressing some of society's most pressing challenges. Think about the change you want to see in the world and let's make that happen.

CREATING ENABLING ENVIRONMENTS FOR THE AGEING

Professor Teh Pei Lee heads the Gerontechnology Lab, an interdisciplinary research platform focused on developing assistive technology to help older people live actively and independently. Her research team has designed a smart home system that allows the user to place their smartphone on a photo of their room and interact with the objects pictured within. This means that they can turn on their lights with just a single tap.

SCAN TO WATCH.

COMBATING DENGUE

Dengue is a mosquito-borne virus that infects millions of people every year. Researchers at Monash's Southeast Asia Community Observatory worked closely with the Ministry of Health in Malaysia to develop a mobile application that can be used to geo-locate, tag and photograph potential breeding sites as well as the location of dengue cases. This application is helping health officials to better manage their resources and conduct targeted fogging.

DETECTING HARMFUL POLLUTANTS

A team led by Associate Professor Narayanan Ramakrishnan is working on an advanced sensor that can detect harmful environmental pollutants. The sensor will be able to function without a power supply and can be manufactured into wearables like watches, rings and belts. This invention will make an enormous difference for people living in polluted cities.

SCAN TO WATCH.

IMPROVING ACCESS TO EDUCATION

Education is a basic right but for most refugee youth, it's a privilege. A Monash team led by Priya Sharma is working with UNHCR and non-governmental organisations to advocate access to higher education for refugees in Malaysia. With initiatives from bridge courses to mentorship programs, we aim to empower refugee youth to gain a place at any university.

SECURING OUR DATA PRIVACY

Most of us don't think twice about connecting to a public Wi-Fi network, and that's what hackers are counting on. Associate Professor Wong Kok Sheik is working on encrypting content to prevent hackers from accessing personal information from intercepted files, so you'll be able to enjoy your coffee and free Wi-Fi with peace of mind.

REVISING DRUG DOSAGES

Our genes affect how our bodies respond to medicine, yet most drug dosages on the market are tailored to the caucasian body. Professor Gan Siew Hua's study was the first to learn that Malaysians have increased difficulty metabolising certain antidepressants, antihypertensives and analgesics, leading to more side effects. By adjusting drug doses based on genetic differences, we can ensure that all patients are receiving the best treatment possible.

ALLEVIATING TRAFFIC CONGESTION

Traffic congestion costs Malaysia RM13 billion yearly in lost productivity, wasted fuel and environmental damage.

Dr Susilawati's research is looking into coordinating traffic signals to reduce up to 100 seconds in travel time for each driver. She's part of a multidisciplinary research team at Monash that is developing an intelligent transportation ecosystem to ease traffic congestion and reduce carbon emissions.

GET AHEAD

From day one, a Monash education sets you on the path to future career success. Our programs and platforms offer work-integrated learning experiences and engagement with industry. You'll develop an enterprising mindset, hone your employability skills and gain a competitive edge in the graduate employment market.

Comprehensive support

Get professional support from our career experts and participate in internship fairs, seminars and workshops, employer networking sessions, and more.

monash.edu.my/career-services

Prepare for success

Our Student Futures platform allows you to collate the real-life skills that will show employers you have what they're looking for, taking into account not just your university activities, but those that are part of your 'outside' life – paid work, family responsibilities and contributing to your community.

monash.edu/student-futures

Develop leadership

While studying, you'll be encouraged to foster the skills for effective leadership that will enable you to positively influence the University, your community and, eventually, the world.

monash.edu/students/leadership/leap

Enhance your professional skills

Our online job portal lists more than 18,000 companies from 73 countries offering full-time and part-time positions, as well as volunteer programs and internships to students based in Malaysia.

careergateway.monash.edu.au

Go global

Find international opportunities. Our database connects you with employers around the world. If you're an international student, you'll be able to search for vacancies available in your home country.

globalcareers.monash.edu

No goodbyes

When you graduate, you'll join a global alumni community of more than 375,000 members. All Monash graduates have access to our alumni programs, including network opportunities and career-related events.

1.5 years (full-time) or 3 years (part-time)*
Classes are held weekday evenings and Saturday mornings.

February Coursework

RM50,110 Malaysian student RM56,175 International student
2021 fees for full course at 1.5 years

* Part-time study is not available for international students.

Unprecedented change in communications and media content, forms, technology and policy in the last decade has wide-ranging implications for business, politics, public administration and everyday life.

This course builds your understanding of the changing global contexts of media and communication practices. You'll gain a critically informed understanding of key issues affecting the global communications industry, focusing on the challenges posed by the emergence of digital media, globalisation and increasing levels of cross-cultural exchange.

You'll be introduced to the latest developments and research in communications and media – including in social and online media – always with a view to real-world application.

Progression to further studies

Completion of this course with a distinction average will provide a pathway to a research degree.

Career paths

Common destinations for graduates include:

- corporate communications, public relations, journalism, publishing, editing, writing and electronic media
- marketing, advertising, business research and analysis
- management consulting, international trade, human resources, training and development, management and administration
- diplomacy, foreign affairs and politics
- tourism, hospitality and entertainment
- production, direction, film, television and video
- academia
- research and policy.

In addition to the opportunities listed above, this degree will prepare you for careers in various sectors within and beyond the media industry. You'll be able to design communication strategies, develop and implement communication policy plans, be a media spokesperson, and offer expert communication advice through industry and market research.

It's a myth that arts graduates cannot transition into technical roles. We're incredibly versatile, and the tech industry needs arts graduates now more than ever. Today's commercially successful tech comes from minds who don't just know how to code, but have deep insight into the human psyche. Arts graduates are the essential human component of this industry."

Develop your specialist knowledge in an area of the humanities or social sciences and make a significant contribution to the scholarship in it.

This master's by research degree allows you to undertake substantial independent research on your chosen topic while being supported by a minimum of two academic supervisors. You'll produce a research thesis that will make a contribution to the current body of knowledge in your chosen topic.

Monash is renowned for innovative, engaging and high quality research in the humanities and social sciences, and we're committed to providing graduate research education of the highest quality in a stimulating, supportive and professional environment.

You may also choose to continue on to a PhD after completing this course, given your new-found skills in applying, clarifying, critiquing and interpreting knowledge.

Areas of study

- Social sciences
- Humanities.

Career paths

Increasingly, Arts research graduates are pursuing careers in the professional job market, responding to the needs of the 21st century. You can go on to work in these sectors:

- journalism, publishing, editing, writing, electronic media, public relations and corporate communications
- marketing, advertising, business research and analysis
- management consulting, international trade, human resources, training and development, management and administration
- diplomacy, foreign affairs and politics

Advance your business knowledge and gain the skills to operate from a global perspective.

Specifically designed for recent graduates and those in the early stages of their career, this course will build on your undergraduate credentials and further strengthen your business skills.

This course has a business-oriented focus, seeking to advance your knowledge of the international environment in which firms and their managers operate considering issues such as international trade and the internationalisation of operations. You'll develop expertise in communicating and negotiating across cultures, and enhance your capacity for advanced analysis of firm internationalisation, corporate strategy, and more.

Experiential learning

Study tour

Participate in site visits to local and international organisations, companies and institutions. This will help you to gain a better understanding of the impact of that location's environment on business and its implications for management. Our students have been to China, Japan, Hong Kong, India and Korea where they've visited companies such as Boeing, Crédit Agricole, Hewlett-Packard and Samsung.

Applied business project

Get more hands-on experience by working on a project assigned by our industry partner. You'll be guided through the processes of proposal writing, data collection and analysis, project implementation, business planning, and project reporting.

Progression to further studies

This degree offers a research pathway into the Monash Doctoral Program (PhD). Opt to complete research-based electives to qualify.

Entry requirements

Depending on your prior qualifications, you may be eligible for credit exemption(s), which reduces the duration.

DR ARVIND RAJAN

Doctor of Philosophy (in the area of Electrical and Computer Systems Engineering)

Recipient of the 2018 Vice-Chancellor’s Commendation for Doctoral Thesis Excellence.

Currently working as a data scientist at DNS Technology in Melbourne.

At Monash, Arvind developed accurate and computationally efficient novel methods to analyse the reliability of engineering systems. His findings have been applied across mission-critical projects in multiple engineering disciplines. In the manufacturing industry, this is achieved through minimising materials used and the optimal design of man-made structures in locations with extreme weather conditions.

Information drives businesses. Without it, they cease to function. Whether for day-to-day operations or strategic decision-making, there is an imperative to record, manage and use information.

This course prepares you for careers in big data analytics, business intelligence, systems design, planning and management, as well as knowledge and information management. You'll gain the expertise to design solutions to business information problems, and to offer strategic guidance to organisations that will enhance their management and governance.

Professionally accredited

This course is accredited by the Australian Computer Society.

Experiential learning

You can opt for an industry experience or research as part of the degree. Choose between:

- a program of coursework involving advanced study and an industry experience studio project.
- a minor thesis research program, consisting of a research project and a research methods training unit. If you're using this master's course as a pathway to a higher degree by research, you should take this option.

Prior qualifications

This course caters to students from a variety of backgrounds. If you do not have previous training in IT, the course includes preparatory units that will give you the IT knowledge needed for the remainder of the course. However, if you already have a degree in IT, you may be able to accelerate your study with an exemption from these preparatory units. This means that you can graduate in 1.5 years on full-time study.

If you're passionate about helping people and want to make a positive difference in the lives of others, this is the course for you.

This skill-based course is taught by leading academics with extensive experience working as counsellors and psychologists. It offers a combination of theory and professional experience, providing you with the knowledge and skills to begin a rewarding career as a counsellor. This degree is also suitable if you're already in a profession that needs counselling skills, such as teaching, social work or human resources.

Work placement

A distinctive aspect of this course is its focus on preparing students to be culturally competent counsellors. You'll complete 768 hours of clinical placements, comprising 300 hours of client contact and 468 hours of non-contact placement activities.

Professionally accredited

This course is fully accredited by the:

- Malaysian Board of Counsellors
- Australian Counselling Association
- Psychotherapy and Counselling Federation of Australia.

Career pathways

Upon completing this course, you should be able to work as a counsellor with an advanced level of knowledge, and be cognisant of the professional issues involved in undertaking counselling as a profession in Malaysia and the region. You'll be able to work in settings such as community mental health clinics, schools, health centres, workplaces and in private practice.

Make a significant contribution to the knowledge and understanding of the field of biomedical science.

This research degree may be undertaken in any of the school's principal research areas and strengths. You'll be supported by a supervisory team and under their guidance, develop a thorough understanding of relevant research techniques. It's expected that your research will make a contribution to the discipline in which you're enrolled by applying, critiquing, analysing or interpreting that knowledge in ways that facilitate pathways for further learning.

Areas of study

- Biomedical sciences
- Psychology
- Public health
- Clinical sciences
- Pharmaceutical sciences.

Progression to further studies

You can apply to transfer to a PhD candidature after a defined period (usually 9-12 months enrolment full-time or equivalent), provided that satisfactory progress has been made and certain conditions are met.

Entry requirements

ELIGIBILITY	Average requirements
Bachelor's degree requiring at least four years of full-time study, which includes a significant research component in the fourth year, leading to an honours degree	H1, H2A or Upper H2B (65%) <sup>1</sup>
Postgraduate Diploma in Biomedical Science with honours	H1, H2A or Upper H2B (65%) <sup>1</sup>
Master's degree in a related discipline, including a significant research component, that is equivalent to an Australian honours degree	Upper H2B (65%) <sup>1</sup>
Qualifications that the Graduate Research Committee and Monash Graduate Research Office consider equivalent to the above.

You must also meet the English language requirements of the University.

The opportunity to take up independent research through the Monash Doctoral Program is one of the most challenging and rewarding experiences we can offer you.

The program consists of an extensive, independent research project in your discipline of choice, supported by a minimum of two academic supervisors throughout your candidature. Your study will result in a research thesis which makes a valuable contribution to the current body of knowledge on your chosen topic.

Areas of research

- Biochemistry and molecular biology
- Epidemiology and preventive medicine
- General practice
- Infectious diseases and immunity
- Medical education
- Medicine
- Microbiology
- Neuroscience
- Nanomedicine
- Public health
- Paediatrics
- Pharmacology

This degree allows you to pursue independent research in a specific area of science over a shorter period of time than a PhD.

If you're unsure whether a PhD is right for you, this course can give you the experience of what studying for a doctorate might be like, while developing your skills and earning a degree that will enhance your employment prospects. If you decide that you're passionate about your research, the option of upgrading to a PhD after your first year is possible.

This research degree may be undertaken in any of the school's principal research areas and strengths. Your work will be expected to make a significant contribution to the knowledge and understanding of your chosen field of study and demonstrate your capacity to carry out independent research.

Areas of study

- Biodiversity and conservation
- Biotechnology
- Chemistry
- Environmental science
- Food science and technology
- Genetics, genomics and bioinformatics
- Infectious disease
- Medical bioscience
- Microbiology
- Natural products and drug discovery
- Tropical biology.

Progression to further studies

You can apply to transfer to a PhD candidature after a defined period (usually 9-12 months enrolment, full-time or equivalent), provided that satisfactory progress has been made and certain conditions are met.

Career opportunities

Science graduates find employment in genetic engineering, agricultural support, pharmaceutical science, banking and finance, environmental consulting, hospitals, medical institutes, mining, petroleum, engineering, research, and food industries.

Monash has provided me with various interesting opportunities ranging from participating in international research conferences or workshops, going on multiple research field trips, as well as a part-time teaching position on campus. These opportunities have allowed me to widen my knowledge not just in research-related skills but also to broaden my perspectives in life by simply allowing me to travel, meet and learn from people all around the world.”

DR CHERYL ONG SUE PENG

Doctor of Philosophy

Research & Advisory Manager, Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil (RSPO)

Cheryl became acquainted with RSPO when, during the course of her research at Monash, she learned that the conversion of Malaysia's tropical peat swamp forests to oil palm plantations was one of the main threats to the fragile but vital ecosystem. This led her to pursue a career at RSPO, in hopes of helping the organisation advocate sustainable practices in the oil palm industry.

Today, she manages research evaluations at RSPO to gain insights into the non-profit's impact, fill knowledge gaps, and drive continuous improvement of its standards. Her career goal has not changed over the years; she's as passionate as ever in contributing to the protection and conservation of the environment and its biodiversity.

Step 1

Application

Check and ensure you meet the entry requirements. For your application to be successful, you must satisfy the academic performance, English language proficiency standard and be at least 17 years of age at your time of enrolment.

An online application should take between 15 and 30 minutes if you have all your details and documentation ready.

1. To make an online application, visit monash.edu.my/submit

2. You must provide a copy of all documents:

- Attached copy of your IC/Passport information page.
- Attached copy of all academic transcripts and/or work experience.
- If documents are in a language other than English, English-translated copies must also be provided.
- Applications will only be processed once all the required documentation is received.

Application fees

An application fee of RM100 (non-refundable) must be paid when you submit your online application. Your application won't be processed unless you've paid this fee.

Your payment options are:

- credit card
- online banking/Interbank Giro (please upload proof of payment to the online portal.)

For more information, visit monash.edu.my/apply-online

Step 2

Application assessment and outcome

1. Once a completed application has been received by Admissions and Student Pass, it'll be assessed according to the University's entry requirements.

2. Following the assessment of your application, you'll receive either one of these notifications:

Letter of Offer

If you meet all the conditions for entry, a Full Offer will be issued. The Offer Letter will confirm the details of the offer being made, namely: course title and start date, length of course, fee information, and any conditions that may apply. The Offer Letter will be sent to you or your agent by email only and acceptances must be made by the offer lapse date stated in your Offer Letter.

* Please refer to the Education Malaysia Global Services's website for more information on SEV required countries: visa.educationmalaysia.gov.my/guidelines/sev-required-countries.html

Conditional Offer

This letter will inform you that the offer is made with conditions which need to be satisfied. Evidence must be shown that you've met the conditions before a conditional offer can be converted to a full offer, such as:

i. Other conditions

This generally occurs because you haven't submitted all the required documentation in your application. Other reasons may be stated in your letter. Your admission won't be confirmed until you satisfy all conditions, which means arranging for all outstanding documents to be submitted to Admissions and Student Pass, Monash University Malaysia.

ii. English language requirement condition

In the event the English language requirement isn't met, you'll need to re-sit for the necessary English language qualification and submit the results to meet the requirements. The campus offers the Monash English Bridging (MEB) program, which runs for 20 weeks. You can write to mum.admissions@monash.edu to enrol in the program.

iii. Deadlines for meeting your conditions

There are deadlines by which you must satisfy the conditions of your offer. In the event that you fail to satisfy the conditions by the lapse date, the conditional offer shall immediately become null and void and of no further force or effect. You'll have to reapply for admission at the next available intake.

Rejection letter

A rejection letter will be issued if you're unsuccessful in meeting Monash University's entry requirements.

Step 3

Accepting the offer

To secure a place at Monash University Malaysia, you must accept the offer before the deadline stated in your Offer Letter with relevant payment of fee. Failing to do so will cause the offer to lapse. Details on how to accept the offer will be provided in your Offer Letter. For more information, visit monash.edu.my/lets-begin

Step 4 (For international students)

Student pass application

You'll be advised on whether:

- you should apply directly via the Education Malaysia Global Services portal at visa.educationmalaysia.gov.my/customer/account/login/
- Monash will submit on your behalf.

For more information, visit monash.edu.my/student-services/international-students/student-pass

What's next?

Orientation Week

You're encouraged to participate in the Orientation Program, which is specifically designed to help you adjust to life at Monash University Malaysia. You should arrive at the University in time for this program, which starts one week before the new semester commences. For more information, visit monash.edu.my/orientation

GRADUATE RESEARCH DEGREE APPLICATIONS

Step 1 Check your eligibility

You'll need to have met the minimum entry requirements for graduate research. Check that you have the necessary academic qualifications and English language proficiency, and are at least 17 years of age at the time of enrolment. Please contact the respective School Research Office for additional faculty-based requirements.

Step 2 Receive an invitation to apply

You need to receive an invitation to apply before you can submit your graduate research application. To receive one, you'll need to complete an expression of interest (EOI) and/or find a supervisor who agrees to supervise your research.

It may take up to four weeks to receive an invitation, so make sure you start this as soon as you can. Please contact the respective School Research Office for guidance.

Step 3 Prepare your documentation

When completing your application, you'll be asked to upload copies of documents which include at least:

- academic curriculum vitae
- academic transcripts
- proof of citizenship
- proof of meeting the University's English language proficiency requirement
- referee reports
- research proposal.

Step 4 Submit an application

You're ready to submit your application once you have an invitation to apply and supporting documents.

If you wish to be considered for a competitive, merit-based scholarship simply indicate this on the application form. There is no need to fill out a separate application form. For more information on the scholarships available, please get in touch with the respective School Research Office.

Step 5 Your application is assessed

Applications can take up to six weeks to be processed. Once the assessment process is complete you will be formally notified of the outcome. If you have applied for a scholarship, your School Research Office will get in touch with you.

Step 6 Accept your offer

If you receive an offer of admission and/or an offer of scholarship support, you are required to formally accept or decline the offer(s).
