STUDYING AND WORKING IN DUBAI

1. Do I need a visa to study in Dubai, UAE?

Yes, all students planning to study in Dubai require to obtain a student visa. Our student support team will be able to guide you through the process and explain the requirements.

2. Can I work whilst I'm studying in Dubai?

Yes, you can work on a part-time basis if you are on a student visa. The legal age to work in Dubai is 15+.

3. Where can I work in Dubai and how many hours?

Students, who meet the age requirement for working in Dubai and are under RIME's student visa sponsorship, can seek employment within the free zone of TECOM. Students are allowed to work on a part-time basis, up to 20 hours per week. Just like anywhere in the world, seeking employment in Dubai is a competitive process. Students are advised to approach companies to identify suitable vacancies and go through a required selection process.

4. What do I need to do to work in Dubai?

You need to be on a student visa issued by Regent. Once you arrive and your student visa is issued, our student support team can provide you with an NOC (no objection certificate), a document required to seek part-time employment.
