Your undergraduate experience at S P Jain is so much more than plain business tools and concepts. Your journey with us is carefully built to include lessons and experiences that reflect today's increasingly global world. Through review of real-world contexts and case studies; solving problems creatively through live simulations and developing projects from the beginning to the end; living and studying in 3 different countries; working collaboratively with peers and mentors from 30 different countries; adapting and applying new skills while integrating them into existing conceptual frameworks — you become part of a global ecosystem that encourages you to contribute, lead and succeed.

Challenge yourself. Explore the world outside of what you call home. Learn to speak a new language. Intern with people of cultures you know very little about. Present your business plan to business leaders from the industry. Adapt to living with a roommate with different food habits. Contribute your skills to rehabilitating a village school in China. At S P Jain School of Global Management, we strive to produce future business leaders who are innovative, flexible and extremely competent in using business tools and concepts, whilst drawing on their understanding of the real world and global awareness.

All of these ideas are embodied in our School, our courses and our ethos:

We pride ourselves on offering a first class educational experience, benefitting from the talents of our extremely qualified global faculty, whilst continuing to be pioneers at the forefront of business education, innovation and technology.

We believe very strongly in interactive, blended and engaged learning methodologies; taking part in simulations and engaging with business practitioners; rather than relying only on textbooks.

We believe that one has to experience global cultures. We are the first school in the world to deliver a multi-city learning model across Dubai, Mumbai, Singapore and Sydney (just one of our many "firsts"). This gives our students direct experience of different cultural and business environments.

We attract and recruit high performing faculty and students from around the world. One of our recent graduates says that she "recommends this course to aspiring students for the diverse faculty resource it provides, which she feels is truly exceptional. There are professors with 20 years of experience on Wall Street; professors from the University of Cambridge; experts in operations management and derivatives from India; to name only a few." Being taught by some of the most highly rated professors in the Asia-Pacific region was an experience in itself for her. The learning journey she feels has been beyond description and the entire experience has enabled her entire class to become global citizens. I can personally testify to this after meeting with faculty at the Mumbai campus. One staff member was the former head of analytics and derivatives at Citibank. Most had extensive consultancy experience and were CEOs of their own companies. These are not your typical university ivory-tower academics!

Our courses enable our students to gain a competitive edge in their careers.

At S P Jain, we offer you extraordinary opportunities to interact with global business leaders and thinkers, and make deep and lasting connections with your peers from around the world. Our goal is to challenge, inspire and empower you to be the best you can be, and to achieve whatever you aspire to achieve. If all of this resonates with you, if you are passionate about a successful career in business, please visit us – we look forward to welcoming you at one of our vibrant campuses, or drop-in online at www.spjain.org.
